CITY OF PHILADELPHIA.

Length of the Squares in the City Plot.

An account has lately been published in different papers respecting the size of the squares, which give an incorrect result—stating the distance from Delaware to Schuylkill at 4,893 feet. We therefore publish the following statement, which we believe to be more nearly correct. The distance on Cedar st. is somewhat greater than on High street.

Length of Squares East and West.

Beginning at Schuylkill low water mark on Cedar Street.

Thence to Water st.		Square			396

WHEN SHALL I DINE?

Many of our readers are probably not aware that the question which stands at the head of this article has been the subject of grave and lengthy disputes; and that not a few very learned and pithy treatises have been written with a view to its solution. A physician of our own country published, about the middle of the eighteenth century, a very sensible essay, to prove that we should eat but one full meal in the day, and this in the evening. To establish his point, he cites the precepts of many of the illustrious dead, and the examples of various nations, in times gone by, "from the rude savage to the polished Greek," not forgetting to draw an argument even from the habits of the brute creation.

Plato, we are told, upon being asked when he had returned to Athens from his travels in Sicily, what he had seen that was curious while abroad, replied, "I have beheld a monster in nature—a man who ate two full meals in a day."

The expression, "two full meals," is so vague and indefinite, that it is difficult to judge from it whether the individual was really deserving of the epithet monster. If, however, as is very evidently the case from the expression attributed to Plato in the Greek, by a full meal is meant the eating of as much food as the stomach will receive—to partake of one such in the course of the day would, to say the least of it, indicate that the individual was very little solicitous for the preservation of his health. There is no period of the twenty four hours when such repletion is admissible.

RULES FOR PRESERVING THE SIGHT.

The preservation of the sight is an object of so much importance to every individual, whatever may be his profession or rank in society, that we have thought a few hints in relation to this subject might be productive of beneficial effects.

It is well known to the physician that nothing more certainly impairs the sense of vision than debauchery and excess of every kind. The individual, therefore, who would preserve his sight

AMERICAN PRESIDENTS.

George Washington was born 11th February, old style, 1732. He lived at Mount Vernon, Fairfax county, Virginia; was elected President of the United States in 1789, at the age of 57 years, and died December 14th, 1799, 67 years of age.

John Adams was born 16th October, 1735. He lived at Quincy, Norfolk county, Massachusetts; was elected President of the United States, in 1797, aged 62, and died July 4th, 1826, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, almost 91 years old.

Thomas Jefferson was born in Chesterfield county, 2d April, 1743. He lived at Monticello, Albemarle county, Virginia; was elected President of the United States in 1801, at the age of 58 years, and died July 4th, 1826, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the same day, and five hours before President Adams died; he was 83 years, 3 months and 2 days old.

James Madison was born in 1756. He lives at Montpelier, Orange county, Virginia; was elected President of the United States in 1808, at the age of 53 years. He still lives in the enjoyment of good health, at Monticello, in the 76th year of his age.

James Monroe was born in 1758. He lived in London County, Virginia; was elected President of the United States in 1817, aged 59; having but little property, and losing his affectionate wife by death, September 23d, 1830, in November of the same year he went to New-York to spend the winter with his daughter and son-in-law Mr. Gouverneur, and died there on the 4th of July, 1831, at the age of 73. This is the third President who has died on the day of the month American Independence was declared.

John Quincy Adams, son of John Adams, was born July 11, 1767. He lives at Quincy, Norfolk county, Massachusetts; was elected President of the United States, 9th February, 1825, by the House of Representatives, at the age of 58 years. Mr. Adams was Secretary of Legation to Judge Dana, Minister to Russia, at the age of 14 years, appointed Ambassador to the Hague when 27, Minister to Russia in 1816, and Secretary of the United States, in 1817; being called from Russia for that purpose by President Monroe.

ANDREW JACKSON was born in Virginia; in 1764. He lives in Nashville, Davidson county, Tennessee, was elected President of the United States, in 1829, at the age of 65.

ANECDOTE OF THE EMPEROR ALEXANDER.—The Emperor was accustomed to travel with the utmost rapidity. On a certain occasion his Majesty, fatigued by having remained a long time in his carriage, alighted, and, unaccompanied by any of his suite, pursued his way on foot through a village that lay before him. The Autocrat of all the Russians was attired in his usual costume,—a military great coat without any particular mark of distinction. Desirous of obtaining some information respecting the road he was pursuing, he accosted a military-looking personage, who stood smoking a cigar at the door of a house. To each of the Emperor's questions the stranger replied in the most uncourteous manner and by way of terminating the ungracious parley—"Allow me to ask," said Alexander, "what may be your military rank?"—"Guess"—"Perhaps, sir, you may be a lieutenant?"—"Higher, if you please"—"Captain?" "Another step."—"Major?"—"Go on, go on."—"Lieutenant-Colonel, I presume?"—"You have hit it at last, though not without effort." These words were pronounced in a tone of arrogance; and the several answers in the preceding dialogue, were accompanied by a cloud of smoke puffed full in the Emperor's face. Now comes my turn, good Mr. Traveller," said the Officer:—"Prey what may be your military rank?"—"Guess."—"Well, then, at the first glance, I should say—"Captain?"—"Higher, if you please."—"Major?"—"Go on, if you please."—"Lieutenant-Colonel?"—"Pray, go on."— unimpaired, must avoid carefully every species of intemperance. This is an all-important rule, a neglect of which will render every other of but little avail.

A long continuance in absolute darkness, or frequent and protracted exposure to a blaze of light, equally injures the sense of vision.

Persons who live almost constantly in dark caverns or chambers, workers in mines, and prisoners who have been long confined in gloomy dungeons, become incapable of seeing objects distinctly excepting in a deep shade, or in the dusk of the evening. While on the other hand, in various parts of the world, in which the light is constantly reflected from a soil of dazzling whiteness, or from mountains and plains covered with almost perpetual snow, the sight of the inhabitants is perfect only in broad day light, or at noon.

Those, also, who are much exposed to bright fires, as blacksmiths, glassmen, forgers, and others engaged in similar employments, are considered, by the best authorities, as most subject to loss of sight from cataract.

Bodily Exercise in Early Life.—To fetter the active motions of children, as soon as they have acquired the use of their limbs, is a barbarous opposition to nature; and to do so, under a pretence of improving their minds and manners, is an insult to common sense. It may, indeed, be the way to train up enervated puppets, or short-lived prodigies of learning: but never to form healthy, well-informed, and accomplished men or women. Every feeling individual must behold, with much heart-felt concern, poor little puny creatures, of eight, ten, or twelve years of age, exhibited by their silly parents as proficients in learning, or as distinguished for their early proficiency in languages, etc.

Colonel?"—"A little higher, if you please."—(The officer upon this threw away the stump of his cigar.)—"Major-General?"—"Another step, if you please."—(The officer now stood immoveable at "attention."—"Your excellence is then Lieutenant-General."—"You are not quite up to the mark.—"In that case I have the honour to address myself to his Serene Highness the Field-Marshal?"—"Do me the favour, Lieutenant-Colonel, to make another effort."—"Ah, sire!" cried the officer with emotion, "will your Majesty deign to pardon me? But could I imagine that the Emperor———"—"I am not offended: and to prove it, if you have a favour to ask I will grant it with pleasure."

An Irish sailor riding on horse-back, stopped, for a few moments, when the horse in beating off the flies, caught his hind foot in the stirrup—"Avast, avast, dobbin," cried," the sailor; "if you are going to get on, I'll get off, for I'll not ride double with you."

Anecdote of Parrots.—Parrots, like cockoos, form their notes deep in the throat, and show great aptitude in imitating the human voice. A most remarkable instance I met with at Mr. Braham's villa in Brompton. A lady, who had great admiration for his talents, presented him with a parrot, on which she had bestowed great pains in teaching it to talk. After dinner, during a pause in the conversation, I was startled by a voice from one corner of the room calling out, in a strong hearty manner, "Come, Braham, give us a song!" Nothing could exceed the surprise and admiration of the company. The request being repeated, and not answered, the parrot struck up the first verse of God save the king, in a clear, warbling tone, looking at the style of the singer, and sang it through. The ease with which this bird was taught was equally surprising with the performance. The same lady prepared him to accost Catalini, when coming with Mr. Braham, which so alarmed Madame, that she nearly fell from her chair. Upon his commencing Rule Britannia in a loud and intrepid tone, the chantress fell on her knees before the bird, expressing, in terms of delight, her admiration of its talents.—This parrot has only been exceeded by Lord Kelley's, who, upon being asked to sing, replied—"I never sing on a Sunday." "Never mind that, Poll, come give us a song." "No, excuse me, I've got a cold—don't you hear how hoarse I am?" This extraordinary creature performed the three verses entire of God save the King, words and music, without hesitation, from the beginning to the end.—Music of Nature.

Singular Stratagem of a Lady.—The Emperor Allah having defeated and taken captive the Rajah of Chittore, one of the greatest Rajpoot princes, offered him liberty on the condition of adding to the imperial seraglio his daughter, reputed one of the most beautiful and accomplished princesses of the age. The rajah, overcome by distress, gave a reluctant consent; but the young lady, regarding the proposal as full of the deepest dishonour, obtained leave, to make trial of a plan which she had contrived for saving her father. She announced her readiness to accede to the marriage, and having procured a passport from the imperial court, fitted out a long train of close travelling-chairs, in the most splendid of which she herself was understood to take her seat. The procession advanced to Delhi, and on its arrival an earnest request was made on the part of the princess that she should without delay be allowed an interview with her parent. A petition so natural was readily granted; and the whole train was admitted into his prison. The chairs being then opened, gave out, not a fair retinue of female attendants, but like the Trojan horse, a band of hardy warriors clad in full armour, who instantly cut in pieces the guards, snatched up the monarch, and having placed him on the horse, soon eluded pursuit cution, music, drawing, or even some frivolous acquirement. The strength of the mind as well as of the body is exhausted, and the natural growth of both is checked by such untimely exertions. We are far from discouraging the early introduction of youth into the sweet and even moralizing society of the Muses and the Graces; but we would have them pay their court also to the Goddess of Health, and spend a considerable portion of their time, during the above period at least, in innocent and enlivening sports and gambols.

REASONS FOR EARLY RISING.

Independent of the injury which the eyes sustain from studying or labouring by candle light—those who spend the night in occupation of any kind, and waste the morning in sleep, lose the most beautiful period of the day, and the one best adapted for either mental or bodily labour. We may consider each day as a sketch, in miniature, of human like, in which the morning represents youth,—noon, manhood; and evening, old age. Who would not then employ the youthfull part of each day in labour, rather than begin his work in the evening,—the period of old age and debility? In the morning we are renovated in the properest sense of the word: the mind, also, is at that period the clearest, and possessed of the most strength and energy. It is not, as at night, worn out and rendered unequal, by the multifarious impressions of the day, by business and fatigue; it is then more original, and possesses its natural powers. This is the period of new mental creation, of clear conceptions, and exalted ideas. Never does man enjoy the sensation of his own existence so purely and in so great perfection as in a beautiful morning. He who neglects this period, neglects the youth of his life!

INTEMPERANCE—INSANITY.

The bloated face, and trembling hand—indigestion and dropsy—diseased liver and kidneys,—are common and acknowledged

If you cannot avoid a quarrel with a black-guard, et your lawyer manage it rather than yourself; no man sweeps his own chimney, but employs a chimney-sweeper, who has no objection to dirty work, because it is his trade.

Don Miguel's Mother.—In one of the cells of a Parisian mad-house is confined a noble Portuguese, whose brother, only twelve years of age, was hanged at Coimbra as the accomplice of a plan to overthrow the existing form of government! "What shall we do with this child?" said the chief judge to a woman; "he is only twelve years old." "Twelve years old!" she replied, "so much the better! Let him be hanged forthwith, he will sup with the angels; and let his brother (who was a little older) witness the execution from the foot of the scaffold."—The woman who thus commanded the coldblooded murder of the child was the mother of the present tyrant of Portugal. The execution took place; and the brother who witnessed this horrible spectacle, lost his senses. The care and ability of Dr. Blanche restored him to health; but still pursued by the phantom of his brother's strangled corps he became mad a second time.

From Coony's History of New Brunswick.

"Pierce Martin, an Indian of remarkable large stature, and athletic make, made when two English marines attempted to put him in irons, a most desperate resistance. In the course of the contest he particularly distinguished himself; but, on this occasion, all the haughtiness of his soul, came to nerve the energy of his arm. It is said, that he absolutely strangled two men in the scuffle, and that, after he had received two or three severe wounds from some others who attacked him, that he wrenched a bayonet from one of the sailors, and by the force of a blow, which he aimed at the disarmed man, drove the weapon through one of the stanchions of the vessel. Being at length overpowered by numbers, he fell apparently dead, and literally riddled with wounds. But the Micmac's spirit was not yet extinguished; lingering existence still fluttered in his bosom; for, when the almost inanimated corpse lay bathed in blood, gashed with wounds, and quivering with agony, Martin, rallying the dying energies of his soul, sprang to his feet, and fastening upon the throat of one of his companions, whom he upbraided with cowardice, had nearly succeeded in strangling the poor wretch, when he received his death blow from one Robert Beck, an Irishman."

The Female Heart.—There is nothing under heaven so delicious as the possession of pure, fresh, immutable affections. The most felicitous moment of man's life, the most ecstatic of all his emotions and sympathies is that in which he receives an avowal of affection from the idol of his heart. The springs of feeling, when in their youthful purity, are fountains of unsealed and gushing tenderness, the spell that once draws them forth is the mystic light of future years, and undying memory. Nothing in life is so pure and devoted as a woman's love. It matters not whether it be for a husband, or child, or sister, or brother, it is the same pure unquenchable flame—the same constant and immaculate glow of feeling, whose undeniable touchstone is frail. Do but give her one token of love, one kind word, one gentle look, even if it be amid desolation and death—the feelings of that faithful heart will gush forth in a torrent, and in despite of earthly bond or mercenary tie. More priceless than the gems of Golconda is the female heart: more devoted than the idolatry of Mecca, is woman's love. There is no sordid view, of gratifying self-interest in the feeling. It is a principle and a characteristic of her nature, a fa-effects of intemperance. By this word intemperance, we do not mean merely drunkenness, but the practice of daily stimulating beyond their healthy and regular beasts, the heart and blood vessels, by potations of vinous, malt, or distilled liquors. It is not, perhaps, so generally know that the man of intemperate habits is prone to madness, and of course liable to become the inmate of a hospital, or lunatic asylum. The instances of temporary madness in drunkards are very common. After some days they may recover by suitable medical treatment, but if they return to their evil habits, they are exposed to fresh attacks, which finally prove fatal. A wound or a fractured limb which, in common healthy constitutions, would soon heal, will often excite to frenzy the habitual drunkard, and be the immediate cause of his death. The chances of recovery from any disease whatever, are infinitely less for the drunkard than the sober man. When the small-pox prevailed so extensively in this city, in 1823–4, we never knew of a drunkard who recovered from an attack of the natural disease; that is, where neither vaccination nor enoculation had been practised. He for the most part died delirious.

But, independent of these instances of temporary and accidental madness, there is a formidable list of the permanent and incurable kind, caused by drunkenness. In a table of 1370 lunatics admitted into the asylum at Cork, Dr. Hallaran says that 160, nearly an eighth of the whole number, were insane from this unhappy indulgence. Though the French are comparatively a sober people, it appears that out of 2507 lunatics admitted into their hospitals, 185 were insane from the same cause. Men are often driven to self destruction by a habit of drunkenness. Out of 218 cases of suicide, published by Professor Casper of Berlin, (in a list of 500) the causes of which were known, 54 were the effects of drunkenness and dissipation.

culty and an infatuation which absorbs and concentrates all the fervour of her soul, and all the depths of her bosom. I would rather be the idol of one unsullied and unpracticed heart, than the monarch of empires. I would rather possess the immaculate and impassioned devotion of one high souled and enthusiastic famale, than the sycophantic fawnings of millions.

Pun.—"A gentleman of the bar, married to a lady who had lost all her front teeth, and squinted so curiously that she appeared nearly blind, happened to be speaking of another lady who had run away from her husband. 'Well,' said Harvey, 'you have some comfort as to your wife.' 'What do you mean, sir" said the barrister. 'I mean that if once you should loose Mrs. ——, you will never be able to i-dent-ify her."—Sir J. Barrington.

Sheep versus Babies.—Crossing a neighbouring enclosure, a few days since, we encountered a little urchin about twelve years of age, whose daily business it was to watch and protect a large flock of sheep, and who, in the bargain, was encumbered with the care of a small child not remarkable for gentleness of disposition.—Finding him in not a very pleasant mood, which seemed to be occasioned by the turbulent spirit of the "little one," we took the liberty of inquiring which was the lesser trouble of the two—the care of the sheep or child '—The lad raised up his hands, and exclaimed in the most earnest manner—"I'd sooner, zur, mind forty sheep than one baby!"

Let us have the best.—An eastern farmer went to a clergyman, and inquired of him "why he did not preach as much Latin and Greek as the minister who preached to them previous to him?"

"Why," said he, "I thought I would make use of such language as I presumed you could understand, and did not suppose that the farmers generally understood Latin and Greek." "Oh" said the farmer, "I pay for the best, and let us have it: give us as much Latin and Greek as you can spare."

INTERESTING LETTER FROM DR. CHAPMAN ON THE CHOLERA.

We copy from the Frederick Herald the following very interesting letter from one of the most able Physicians in this country, detailing his manner of treating the disease, and we have little doubt that it is principally owing to the adoption of this most judicious treatment that the speedy and unparalled rapid decrease of the Cholera in Philadelphia, is mainly attributable. Balt. Gaz.

From the Frederick Herald.

Mr. Niles—The following from my friend Dr. Chapman, was received a few days ago. In requesting a place for it in your paper, I may be giving to it a publicity as unexpected, as it certainly is unauthorized by the author.

Whatever offence may be committed in this way will, I trust, be amply atoned for by reason of the character of the communication—its admirable adaptation to the end of tranquilizing public anxiety on some points, and of leading medical practitioners in a course of inquiry and practice, commensurate with the fearful nature of the pestilence of which it treats.

Most respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
WM. BRADLEY TYLER.

Frederick City, Aug. 24th 1832.

My dear Sir: I have delayed to answer your letter, till I had formed some decision as to the nature and treatment of the Pestilential Cholera which is now prevailing. There are points on which so much difference of opinion existed, that I found it impossible to make up my mind as to them, without the lights of actual observation and experience. I have now seen the disease sufficiently to enable me to arrive at satisfactory, and I trust, just conclusions on the subject. But I can present in the narrow compass of a letter, only a very concise and imperfect exhibition of my views, and indeed, such are my in-

MAXIMS FOR PARENTS.

1. If consumption has prevailed in either of your families, use the earliest precautions to prevent your children falling victims to the same disease.

2. Though consumption may not have been common on the side of either, yet precaution is not the less important. Two or three neglected colds in winter, or a cutting blast in spring, with improper clothing, may, in a firm constitution, securely seat the relentless destroyer;—at the best, wretched health will be a certain consequence.

3. When they who must be ignorant of the essential difference between a common cold and consumption, boast of their cures, hear, but heed them not: ask this question of your own common sense,—what experience or inspiration can instruct such pretenders?

4. It is wise to check a cold the first week; but much wiser the first four and twenty hours.

5. Attempt not the treatment of your own, or your children's colds,—lest, what may in reality have been, in the first instance, a trifling disease, should by your mismanagement, be converted into a confirmed consumption.

6. All remedies which do no good, in either colds or consumptions, invariably do a very great deal of harm.

7. A strictly sober life, regular, active exercise, and a cheerful and contented mind, are the most certain means by which those predisposed to consumption, may escape its attack, and preserve their lives to an advanced period.

8. The most certain means by which the predisposed, even when guilty of no intemperance, may invite the attack of their lurking enemy, is a plentiful use of pectoral balsams, balms of life, lung restorers, cough-lozenges, or indeed any of the list of the certain cures in the newspapers.

cessant occupations, that I have scarcely leisure to execute even this slight sketch.

The disease, wholly independent of contagion, is caused by an epidemic agency, of which we know nothing with certainty; it is not improbable, however, that it is owing to an ariform poison, which acting through the medium of the stomach on the ganglionic nerves, so impairs that system, that its functions are in a greater or less degree suspended. As always happens, where sensorial or nervous influence is withheld, there is in this case, a recession of blood from the periphery, and correspondent accumulations of it in the deep seated vessels, subversive of the proper distribution of it in the circulation, attended by a vitiation or suppression of the secretions. This, in a word, is my theory of the disease, the truth of which, I think, is sustained by the symptoms, the phenomena on dissection, and the mode of cure.

It is generally held here, that Cholera is pretty uniformly preceded by considerable disturbances of the alimentary canal, by nausea or purging, or the two united. That affections of this sort are very common in the city and elsewhere, cannot be denied. But whether they constitute the preliminary stage of the disease is very doubtful. It seems to me, they ought rather to be considered as a condition, arising from distinct sources of irritation, predisposing to the disease. Can it be expected, that a cause ultimately operating so powerfully as that of Cholera, should endure for three or four or five days, merely teazing, in this slight manner, the stomach or bowels? The transition of these mild and lingering affections, to the explosion of Cholera in its fullest force, is far too sudden and violent to suppose that they are one and the same disease, varied only by stages. I know not the analogies by which the hypothesis can be supported. Nor is this probative indisposition mentioned by any of the writers on Asiatic Cholera whom I have consulted. It is scarcely to be presumed, that so prominent and important a fact, had it an existence could have possibly escaped the attention of these very able and experienced historians of the disease. Being attached to armies, and more particularly from their position in Hospitals, they enjoyed the best, and peculiar advantages, for accurate and discriminating observations. It was first noticed, and promulgated by some of the British publications, though not sanctioned by all, and from a similar coincidence of gastric and entiretic derangement with the epidemic in this country, the notion has been espoused by us. Be it as it may, such disorders should at once be removed, as they are apt at all events, to invite an attack of Cholera. They do not differ from the ordinary complaints of the season, and require no peculiar management.

Genuine Cholera, for the most part, comes on with little or no premonition. The earliest symptoms are complaints of load, and oppression, and anxiety about the præcordia, with an internal sense of heat, referrible to the stomach or bowels, with great thirst and a whitish tongue, and at the same time, the head is confused, the expression of countenance haggard, accompanied by slight nervous tremors, muscular weakness, cold skin, and either a quick and somewhat feeble, or a full and struggling pulse. Copious evacuations upwards and downwards, of fluid resembling dirty or turbid rice water, with flocculi mixed in it, soon occur, followed by cramps or spasms of the muscles of the extremities and abdomen. These are seldom so violent as has been represented, and never extend to the alimentary canal. An aggravation of the preceding symptoms rapidly takes place, and in half an hour or more, the tongue becomes icy cold, the skin more chilled and sodden, though feeling hot to the patient, covered with a dewy viscid perspiration, the hands shivelled or willed, as if mascerated, the nails of the fingers blue, the pulse scarcely or not at all perceptible, the face sunken, especially the eyes, around which is a dark circle. This color gradually diffuses itself over the entire surface, partaking of the various shades of lividness, from a Causes of Disease.—Nothing, says an old writer, pesters the body and mind sooner than to be still fed, to eat and inurgitate beyond all measure, as many do. By overmuch eating and continual feasts they stifle nature, and choke up the muscles; which, had they lived coarsely, or, like galley slaves, been tied to an oar, might have been happily prolonged many fair years.

To the same effect is the language of a celebrated London lecturer. I tell you honestly, says he, what I think is the cause of the complicated maladies of the human race; it is their gormandizing, and stuffing, and stimulating their digestive organs to an excess; thereby producing nervous disorders and irritation. The state of their minds is another grand cause; the fidgetting and discontenting yourselves about that which cannot be helped; passions of all kinds—malignant passions, and worldly cares pressing upon the mind, disturb the action of the brain, and do a great deal of harm.

FEASTING AFTER FATIGUE.

"The generality of mankind are accustomed," remarks Wallis, in his Art of Preventing Diseases, "after they have suffered fatigue, and that perhaps severe, from hunting, shooting, cricket playing, walking, or any other species of undue exertion, to indulge their appetites, by eating copiously of solid food, and think it one of the advantages thence arising, that they are enabled to throw down such a load of gross material; nay, not content with this, they make it float in porter, ale, or some other viscid liquor, and afterwards indulge themselves with a goodly bottle. This practice they think supported by reason, for when the machine is exhausted, they argue, it is most natural to conclude that it requires much refreshment. If we examine, however, the effects of such indiscreet conduct, we cannot hesitate to pronounce it erroneous, and to condemn the practice. For, after eating and drinking copiously under such circumstances, saturnine to a bluish or blackish hue. During this period, the thirst is intense, the heat of the stomach in some instances is increased to a burning sensation, the respiration greatly embarrassed, the air expired cold, the voice low, or whispering and plaintive, the diaphragm convulsed, and there is a total suppression of the urinary and other secretions. Discharges from the alimentary canal, and the spasms, likewise cease or are much diminished. Death ultimately takes place in a sort of tranquil stupor, or with indescribable jactitation and distress, the latter state being by far the most common.

As I have briefly described the disease, such is the tenor of its character and progress, though occasionally diversified in some respects. Thus I have seen its accession as sudden as the electric shock, and have met with cases without spasms, or vomiting or purging. Many other anomalies might be mentioned, could I indulge in such details. The disease may be properly divided in most instances, into two stages, that of aggression, and collapse.

Called at the commencement of an attack, unless there is extreme depression, I bleed very freely from the arm, and uniformly give the cathartic, and give calomel largely, combined or not with opium, according to the severity of the spasms. The case will almost invariably yield to these remedies, and we have no further trouble concerning it. But when the attack is continued, or in other words, the state of collapse exists, the difficulties of management are vastly increased, and the practice is somewhat different. The first step, under such circumstances, is to poke actively with tepid salt and water, a tumbler full at a time. This usually settles the stomach, allays thirst, produces some degree of reaction, a stronger pulse, increased warmth of surface, and a remission of the spasms. Concentrating in the mean time all attention the vital forces, and exciting the skin particularly, rub the body and extremities with dry

Let a vein be then opened, and if the blood flows freely, take a large quantity, and especially should the pulse rise and the blood become florid. But where the reverse happens, or you have slowly to coax out the blood, or the pulse is sensibly weakened by the loss of it, stop the operation, and apply twenty or thirty cups to the abdomen, including the epigastrium, which, though they may not draw much blood, are eminently serviceable as revellents. The cups are to be succeeded by a blister to the same parts. Calomel is next to be given in the dose, of five, ten or twenty grains, frequently repeated till the aggregate amounts to about a drachm, and then worked off with a table spoon-ful of castor oil. As the result of these means, there are commonly bilious evacuations, discharges of urine, and other proofs of the restoration of secretory power. Little more is demanded than what has been mentioned. I have, however, sometimes known, though rarely, at this point of the case, irritabili of the stomach to return, with the appearance approaching exhaustion, in which event stim are to be resorted to; the best of which are, strong infusion of cayenne pepper, or clove tea, t spirits of camphor, or the aromatic spirits of amn nia, or mint julep.—But they are cautiously to administered, and in small portions, or they instantly rejected, or they overwhelm the energ of life, or more slowly induce typhoid prostration.

Drink is sometimes vehemently solicited, pa cularly in the height of the attack, and the insti tive desire for cold water, or even for ice, may gratified in moderation. The proper nourishm in convalescence, the only time when any is wan or to be allowed, is chicken water or beef tea, r dered agreeably pungent with cayenne pepper Thus I have hastily laid before you an outline of mode of managing this terrible disease. It may the system grows dull and heavy, and general lassitude comes on; the pulse grows quick, the face flushed, a temporary fever ensues; the skin is dry—the mouth clammy—thirst ensues—and in the place of that recruited strength, alacrity and cheerfulness they expected to obtain from their hearty meal and night's repose, they arise in the morning after a few hours of disturbed sleep, weary and depressed with pain or stiffness in the joints, an aching head, and a stomach nothing on earth tempted food. Nor can it be otherwise, for the digestive powers of the stomach, in that state of exhaustion induced by fatigue, are incapable of performing the task to which they are entirely unequal, and the load of food which is taken, in place of increasing the strength and activity of the system, is a cause of suffering and disease, extending from the stomach itself to the remotest of the system.

Were persons, after extreme fatigue, to confine themselves to liquid food, or that kind which is easily digested, such as plain broth, milk, light bread, pudding, with wine and water for their beverage: all these inconveniences would be prevented, and the strength, activity, and ease of the body speedily and effectually restored."

The Way to be Sick.—The individual who is desirous of a severe attack of disease, or who wishes to get rid of life in extreme agonies, should, when wet to the skin, and benumbed with cold, dry himself before a large fire, and then drink a glass of spirits or hot toddy. It may be replied, that many have pursued this practice with little or no inconvenience. A common opinion it can, it is true, do many things which would be impossible to the more weakly. Let them, however, persist in tampering with their health, and the effects we have pourtrayed will sooner or later most certainly occur.

The individual, on the other hand, who wishes to live in health, but to preserve his health and life, should observe with all served that, with scarcely an exception, it is detory and evacuant. Deluded by false appearas of debility in the disease, and still more by the eight of authority, I adopted when it first broke t among us, in common with my medical friends, course of practice in conformity with such an impression; and most disastrous was the issue. Nost every patient, amounting to five or six, died.— he prominent indications seemed to call for bleed the surface, and the internal exhalation of the ffusible excitants. Every variety of bath, hot wa r, vapour, heated air, and topical applications of t sand, or oats, or salt, &c. were used, and also ictions with the spirits of turpentine alone, or mixd with camphorated mercurial ointment, and vesi articles. Brandy, ether, camphor, vol. alkali, &c. e. were in succession tried, and the whole of these eans with no other effect, than an inconceivable asperation. The suffering indeed, incurred, was great as I have ever witnessed from the applica- n of any remedial process. No practical lesson is more important than, that in the case of this disease, all rash applications and violence are mischievous, till evacuations are promoted, and then to be most discreetly directed.

It were easy to populate you with dozens other methods of treating this disease, or to enumerate a number of special remedies that have been proposed. Discouraged, as it seems, by the fearful ravages of the disease, practitioners have been prone to try something, to abandon their preconceived and well tried remedies, to indulge every fancy, and a resource in speculation and innovation.

I do not mean to assert of any measure, that on a fair comparison of all that I have seen, I should, I am led to say unqualified preference to any one plan. It cannot be denied that many remedies, comparatively obscure, have established claims to genuine efficacy, and these ought, and is mentioned in most of its features by the enlightened and experienced experience of the enterprising writer on the disease in India. Many may be cured with it, and some will sink under the force of the attack in despite of your efforts. The case not being too far advanced, a triumph over the disease is pretty certain. PAT DURKAN'S PIGEONS.

AN IRISH STORY.

Some years since, when the peace had provoked a partial influx of our Gallic neighbours into Ireland, it happened that one arrived at ———, and, as a matter of course, sojourned at Pat Durkan's. His first breakfast there, had been discussed apparently much to his satisfaction, and it now only remained to select the materials for dinner from Pat's ample bill of fare, previous to an intended excursion the neighbouring islands. Pat was summons "Vat you have for dinniere?" demanded Frenchman. "What hav'nt I, your honor," turned Pat; "why, there's roast an' biled, stewed an' fryed, an' the murphies to the back that agin; an' it's seldom the likes iv thim c ses a Frinchman's muzzle in his own country," added mentally. "Vat you have, manger?" qu the Frenchman. "Arrah be aisey, your hono rejoined Pat, "the devil resave the taste iv man mate is under the same roof wid you, barrin ould bitch, an' she's neither here nor there in at you know. "Miscricorde!" ejaculated Monsi somewhat discomposed, and not comprehending intent of Pat's phraseology. "Manger, I say m ger?" "You naed not be callin a body names gibborish for all that," said Pat; "an I'll take Bible oath into the bargain, that the sorry bit mangy or meazly mate's in under the same tha

THE OLD SOLDIER.

Sir William Temple, among other narratives of long lived persons, relates one of an old man, who lived recently in a lonely inn, upon the road in Staffordshire, England. "He told me," says Sir William, "he was a hundred and twenty years old—that he had been a soldier in the Cadiz voyage, under the Earl of Essex, of which he gave me a sensible account—that after his return he fell to labour in his own parish, which was a mile from the place where I met him—that he continued to work till a hundred and twelve, when he broke one of his ribs by a fall from a cart, and being thereby disabled, he left to beg.—This agreeing with what the master of the house told me was reported and believed by all his neighbours. I asked him what his usual food was—he said milk, bread and cheese, and flesh when it was given to him. I asked him what he used to drink—he said, 'O, sir, we have the best water in our parish in the whole neighbourhood!'—whether he never drank any thing else? he said, 'yes, occasionally beer, if any body gave it him, but not otherwise.' The host told me he had got nearly a pound in his house, but had never spent a penny. I asked him if he had any neighbours as old as himself: he told me one, who had been his fellow-soldier at Cadiz, and was three years older—but that he had been worst of his time in good service, and had something to live on now he was old."

A gentleman asked another, how his friend, who was involved in debt, came to drown himself?—"Because he could not keep his head above water," was the reply.

wid you." "Diable!" cried Monsieur, nearly out of patience, "for dinniere, I say dinniere!" "Och, regarding the dinner is it?" said Pat; "musha, sure I tould your honor all about that long ago; we've roast, an' biled, an' stewed, an' fryed; but if you want to know all the ins an' outs iv the business, why here's the bill, an' your honor may pic an' choose for the matter iv that." Pat lugged out his bill of fare, which had been prepared for the occasion by his better half; and the contents of which he was as utterly ignorant of as his guest before he had perused them. In fact, it is doubtful, whether the sum total could, at any period, have been procured within a circuit of some miles; he placed it, however, before his guest. "Roshif!" inquired the Frenchman, as his eye caught the first item. "Thunder an' onns!" thought Pat, I'm dished now altogether entirely—roast beef, your honor, truth, thin, I would not recommind it; bekase you see it's long killed—long enough," he added mentally, "soaking as how had back to the taste of a dead cow stared me in the face since mid Madam's lay last Christmas." "Veal!" repeated Monsieur. "Nor that neither," said Pat; "it's only shank, your honour—shank indeed," he continued to himself, "for its not dead yet." "Pigeons," enumerated the Frenchman, with the true nasal twang, and mangling the final s. "Och sure that's not in it," cried Pat; "what darlens does he mane at all at all, wid his pushoons?" "Pigeons," repeated the guest. "Och leather, your honour, sure it's not guess you're making it out," said Pat. "Pigeons," repeated the Frenchman, raising his tone. "By the holey, I have it," said Pat, "now a rakonteur something of his own pets—an' it's myself that will stand your honor to a hair—the pushoons!" Faith, it is lucky I thought o—whitlow." And he made his exit in high glee with his supposed interpretation. It happened, that upon this identical morning Pat's domestic cat had achieved her accouchement; the event of which had been an increase of his family, to the extent of five fine, thriving, comely kittens, or pusheens, as Pat would term them in his native parlance. One of those was, in accordance, as he imagined, with his guest's directions, brought to the knife, dismembered, friccassed, and, in proper time, duly served up for dinner. The dish proved savoury, Monsieur smacked his lips, and on the ensuing day, a repetition of the precious condiment was ordered—on the next day an encore—on the next a da capo; and so on until, on the sixth, when Pat's pusheens were exhausted, he made his appearance before his guest, with an unusually sombre cast of visage. "Pigeons?" said the Frenchman. "All gone, your honor," returned Pat; "an' the sorrow one more in the parish, for love or money, barrin the ould cat, that's mousin here these four years come next Patrick-mas." "The cat," ejaculated Monsieur. "What else?" cried Pat.—"Cat!" re-echoed the Frenchman, with a visible emotion of the stomach and countenance. Pat opened his mouth, scratched his head, and looked aghast. Monsieur stormed, spat, and raved, by turns. Pat scratched, and scratched, and scratched and scratched again, and at length an eclaircissement took place. I cannot say, precisely, whether or not the stomach-pump had been ere this period invented, and consequently, whether it was on this occasion put in requisition; but certain it is, that sounds and symptoms would have evinced that such an instrument had been used effectually upon the interior of Monsieur, who did not fail to recollect, to the last day of his life, Pat Durkan's pigeons.

MONEY OR NO MONEY.

We have heard a very amusing story, of the mode of procedure of a famous Cholera Curer of this city. He does not visit his patients; on the contrary, they are such as are able to visit him. The first inquiry he makes, is respecting the state of their pockets; and he makes up his mind of the disease according-

PICTURE OF A HEALTHY CHILD.

Many parents, we are persuaded, neglect the physical education of their children, not so much from any carelessness in regard to the welfare of the latter, as from an actual misconception of the effects such education, when properly conducted, is calculated to produce, and from an ignorance of the signs by which perfect health and vigour are indicated. Thus by one class, excessive fatness in an infant is looked upon as the perfection of health; by another, the amount of strong food it craves and consumes;—others, again, can conceive of no more certain indication of health, than the absence of positive disease—the early appearance of the teeth—or, the premature efforts of the child to use its feet.

To correct such erroneous notions, and to exhibit the important results to be anticipated from a judicious attention to food, exercise, and clothing, during infancy and childhood, we present the following picture, not drawn from imagination, but in strict accordance with facts, and with the experience of every enlightened observer.

The body of a child, whose physical education has been properly conducted, is straight and robust; its limbs are uniformly covered with flesh, and well proportioned.

The texture of the flesh is firm, the colour of the surface fresh and rosy; and the body appears neither overloaded with fat, tumid and spongy, nor parched and haggard, or strangely meagre. The skin is soft and flexible, and the complexion lively and fresh.

The stages of growth, or developement in the different organs, take place in regular succession; no power, no capacity, outstrips another: the teeth do not appear too soon, nor at irregular periods; the child does not begin to walk too early nor too late; and the same is observable with regard to its speaking. Even the mental faculties expand themselves more slowly; as other

ly. To those who are very sick, he gives a vial of his specific, and charges ten dollars, to others, he merely deals out a few pills, for which he charges nothing.

Taking each patient aside, as his turn comes, he says to him—"Sair, ave you some cash—some money?"

"No sir, I'm very poor, indeed."

"Ver poor! eh? Sair, me ver sorry for you—ver sorry indeed, sair."

"I have no money at all—I'm as poor as Job's turkies."

"Eh! no money at all? poor as de Job Turk?—Mon Dieu! Me ver sorry for you. Sair, me feely your pulse. Not mush bad. No money, eh? Vy, sair, I ave de grand plesaire to say, sair, dat you have leetul cholera—ver leetul—not mush—you get vell—you no ver bad, sair—you got no money. I chargzhe you nossin at all, sair."

Having dismissed this patient, he calls in another, and puts the same important questions respecting the state of his finances. Finding them favourable, he proceeds to examine the tongue, the pulse, and so forth. He then shrugs his shoulders, shakes his head ominously, and exclaims: "Mon Dieu! Ver bad—ver bad! Sair, you ave got de ver bad cholera—ver bad—you tong, you pulse—dam ver bad. Me no wish to give you alarm, sair—me no wish to scary you; but, sair, you av got de ver bad cholera about you. The patient takes his vial of the grand cholera specific, pays the ten dollars, and in his turn gives way to some new patient—the exclaims of whose disease is twice ascertained by the amount he has in his pocket.—N. York Constellation.

preached in a little chapel near Sligo, in the land of "praties":—

"My dear children! You know that I have been your Father, and Comforter, and Confessor, these six-and-twenty years next Feast of the Virgin: and you all of you know what trouble I've had in keeping Satan from taking hould of your sowls. Ayc, you may well look glum, but you are mighty sure, every son of Adam amongst you, that I have worked hard enough. But will you never lave off your abominable tricks! Will you never grow obedient! What! you think you may sin as you plase the whole week long, and come to me for absolution at the end of it! Then I tell you what, darlings; you wont get it!—Arrah now, Mr. Pat Maloney, why did you cock your eye on the pulpit just then? I didn't say I meant you; but now you'll give me lave to suppose so. And you, Mr. Philip O'Shaugnessy you are making a great bother with your nose and throat, as if you had a big cowld; wait a bit, darling; I'll come to you presently, and mind if I don't tickle your rotten conscience to some tune!

"Does any body know Judy Bryant?—Och, to be sure, every body knows poor Judy; and yet I dare say some of you will pretind to tell me that you never heard or saw such a cracher in all your born days. Now, couldn't poor Judy hang her blanket out to dry—her only blanket, on her own pailings, but that the Divil must put it into the heads of certain parsons, whom I have at this moment in my eye, to take fancy to the same?—Well Murtock O'Donnel, I didn't say it was you did it, altho' you do look so fidgetty and flustered, nor you, Barney McShane; but you remember I said I had the parson in my eye, do you? And you, Meggy Flanagan—you can't sit asy in your sate either: yet who would suspect you, that have got a comfortable home, and your husband Teddy one of the best coblers in the country?" He now deepened his voice, and threw into his manner a very impressive words, not until after the most important bodily changes have been effected. Every period from infancy to manhood, proceeds in a natural and gradual manner, so that the child, in a physical point of view, remains longer a child. He does not mature into manhood before he has completed the proper term of youth; and thus every stage, as well as the whole career of his existence, will be considerably prolonged.

The constitution under such circumstances, becomes more hardy, and is less liable to be effected by the ordinary vicissitudes of climate and weather; and by its being possessed of a great degree of inherent vigour, the assaults of disease are more certainly repelled: the mental powers are also enabled to assume their greatest developement; and the capability of enjoying all the rational pleasures of life is greatly increased.

Parents have it in their power, in almost every instance, to realize, in their own children, the preceding picture; or, by their neglect or ignorance, to present in them its opposite.

We can conceive of few stronger inducements to filial gratitude, than must exist in the bosom of that child, who, in addition to existence, has received from the enlightened love of its parents, the means of rendering such existence a real blessing. "I feel myself indebted for the health I enjoy, to the love and foresight of a parent," is at once the most affecting eulogium, and the most powerful of motives for continued love and esteem.

EPIGRAM.

It rained a deluge; Joseph reached home late;
The bell long tugged; at last, popped out a pate—
"Who's that there ringing now?" squalls sleepy Bet;
"Tis I, you jade," says he; "I'm wringing wet." solemnity. "Remember what I have said, my children!—Poor Judy Bryant has lost her blanket. I have the big thafe before me that stowl it; and if it is not returned to her before to-morrow morning, I'll excommunicate him and all that belongs to him; I'll have nothing more to do with him in this world or the next!"

The terrific yell which was now sent forth by the 'children,' drove us forth from the chapel; but with the impression on our minds, that the being who could thus combine the duties of the spiritual and the civil magistrate, was deserving in the highest degree of the public esteem; for however Philosophy might cavil at the means employed, Justice was benefitted by the ends he obtained.

A SCENE IN SEYMOUR STREET.

"If happiness has not her seat
And centre in the breast,
You may be wise or rich, or great,
But never can be blest."

Coming along Seymour Street this afternoon, I witnessed a scene enough to make that grievous muse, Melpomene, herself laugh. Before a window well filled with youthful faces, stood or rather capered a stout boy, of about twelve years of age.—His native country was Italy, his profession was to grind music from a hurdy-gurdy; his face was comedy itself; he was of the genius "Capripedum," as Horace writes, for his action was a kind of wild, goat-like capering, which still he kept true time to his simple instrument. His dress was as bad as bad could be, his shoes excessively large, and the address displayed in keeping them on his frantic feet was admirable. A sly, yet comic something in his eye still showed that his thoughts were fixed upon the pennies which he seemed to await from the window. Near him, and adoring him stood a little sweep, about seven years of age, as black as ebony, with his sooty cap dangling from his head, grinning with impatient glee. Inspired by the music, and the musician's grotesque attitudes, he could resist no longer; so he joined in the dance with a scream of delight.

"Sure such a pair were never seen,
So justly formed to meet by nature."

and, sure, never before was so much drollery bundled into so many rags. The musician's face I thought nothing could surpass, but the sweep's was insufferably droll; his feet were not incommoded by any shoes, and followed the impulse of the strings like their echo. At last, becoming a little tired, for he danced as an amateur, the other as a professor, pitching his voice at his highest key, he roared out to his partner, "What! are na ye tired yet? see what money I get you!" says he, as the half-pennies jingled on the pavement. "See, what money I get you!" but without ever attempting to take one farthing for himself. Pleased with the generous little fellow's conduct, I held out a penny for himself. "Nay," says he, I'm only dancing abit for him." I forced him to take it, and away he went, flourishing his cap, running with all his might to rejoin some brother of the brush, whose shrill monosyllabid cry called him to his dusty duty.

Moral.—To my thinking there was more true pleasure enjoyed by these two boys, in those f minutes, than has been enjoyed by the last th prime ministers in the last twenty years. "It w a dance of natures making," as Sterne says, think I saw religion in it. I am sure it was ful charity. TRISTIS

HINTS ON HEALTH.

"A MAN," says Sir William Temple, "has but three things to choose out of—to exercise daily, to be very temperate to take physic, or to be sick." We may venture to assert, with a much later writer, that the principal secrets of health are early rising, exercise, personal cleanliness, and leaving the table unoppressed.

When a family rises early in the morning, exercises the house to be well governed, and the inmates industrious and healthy.

With respect to exercise, there is a simple and benevolent law of nature—"Earn, that you may enjoy." In other words—secure a good digestion, by exercise.

As much, perhaps, may be said concerning ablution, as exercise. "Dispel the ill humors from the pores." Cleanliness is a virtue, though not the first in rank, one of the first, at least, in necessity.

On the subject of temperance, that sturdy moralist, Johnson, speaking of a book in which it was recommended, observed, "Such a book should come out every thirty years, dressed in the mode of the times." "He that would eat much," says the proverb, "must eat little." Let us not, however, confound temperance with starvation—on the contrary, it is strictly nutrition. We may be intemperately abstemious, as well as intemperately luxurious.

From all that has been said and written on the subject—from the experience of every age and every clime, we may conclude, that "they are the most healthy, who have no other cook for their cookery—hunger for their caterer; who have no other tonic but the sun and fresh air—and no other physic to it but temperance and exercise."

The mouth is the safety of the mind, and lets off the deleterious pernendered by unpleasant actions from the exl world operating upon the mental faculties. story being told, how gently the mind of man to quiescence, and the more it is told, the admirable is the result.

legislative bodies had truly the well being of constituents at heart, authorised listeners d be placed in the streets, "thick as the s which strew the brooks in Valambrosa," or Jarsies, "or in Valdarno." Thus, if Daniel ful had the blues, and were at the same time, underlying an invitation to a tea party from Miss Deborah Doughty, on which occasion he was expected to be vastly agreeable, he could step on the way and relate his sorrows to a legal friend, undergo the formula of condoling sympathy, and then paddle off to the blow out with a load removed from his lately sinking heart. "I were a [illegible] of law missing to be washed. In the meantime, Danny may be seen opening his mouth to the full extent, and projecting his head-quarters a league out of his mouth into the [illegible] which it passes, and falls out of the other, like vaulting ambition, that falls on t'other side. Such of want was felt by Pergamus Frimp on the night a the 19th. He was discovered on the counter of an [illegible] gazing, regarding the [illegible] with a steady gaze, and sighing like furnaces.

"My eye," said a clerky—"he [illegible] up a tree! He pleases to dissemble, you raccoon."

"Heigho! what are you pleased to want down below? Heigho!"

"You—I want you—come down."

"I'll do your business for you, my hearty, never fear—Down with you," said Charley, shaking the post.

"Ah, dont! I am down—down in the mouth."

"Why you ornery fellow, dare to crack jokes with me! down! down! down!" said he, shaking the frame with such violence, that Pergamus was glad to spring to the earth.

"Now, burster, what the dogs do you mean?"

"I'm chock full of grief, and I can't tell what for. I'm all a bag of bewailments and tears. Sich an oppression at my heart, and sich a buzzing in my ears. Oh! dear!"

TOBACCO.

It is really surprising that a single individual could be found, who, after experiencing the distressing sensations almost invariably produced by the first use of Tobacco, would be willing to risk their recurrence a second time: still more so, that any one should again and again resort to the "noxious weed," until, its immediate effects being lessened by habit, it becomes an article of luxury, from the use of which it is found difficult to refrain.

The extreme nausea—pain of the head, and vertigo—the cold death-like sweat, and general exhaustion, experienced by the novice in chewing, smelling and smoking, we should imagine would be fully sufficient to prevent the use of tobacco from becoming a habit. Yet, such is "the folly and infatuation of the human mind," and the power of custom and example, in opposition to prudence and the dictates of nature, that one of the most disgusting productions of the vegetable kingdom, "in all places where it has come," to use the quaint expression of Sir Hans Sloane, "has much bewitched the inhabitants, from the polite European, to the barbarous Hottentot."—Jour. of Health.

Exercise.—Throughout all nature, want of motion indicates weakness, corruption, inanimation, and death. Trenck, in his damp prison, leaped about like a lion, in his fetters of seventy pounds weight, in order to preserve his health; and an eminent physician observes, "I know not which is most necessary to the support of the human frame, food or motion." Were the exercise of the body attended to in a corresponding degree with that of the mind, men of great learning would be more healthy and vigorous—of more general talents—of sounder practical knowledge—more happy in their domestic circumstances—more pricing, and more attached to their duties as men. In fact, it may with much propriety be said, that the highest attainments of the mind, without improvement of the body, can never give sent any thing more than half a human being.—Ib.

THE LITTLE FACTORY GIRL,

To a more Fortunate Playmate.

Recent attempts in the British Parliament to afford to the children in the manufactories legal protection from severity and over-working, have probably excited this poetic appeal in their favour.

often think how once we used in summer field to play,
And run about and breathe the air that made us glad and gay,
We used to gather buttercups and chase the butterfly—loved to feel the light wind lift my hair as it went by!

Do you still play in those fields, and are the flowers still there? [where!
There are no fields where I live now, no flowers anyBut day by day I go and turn a dull and tedious wheel,
You cannot think how sad and tired, and faint I often feel.

I hurry home through my work to make for one repast.
Then back I have to go to task but not to mine I say.
At night my mother kisses me, when she has combed my hair,
And bid me on my little bed, but—I'm not happy there—

I dream about the factory, the hour that is to wait—
I start and ask my father if—I have not "lost my bobbin,
And once I heard him sob and say—"O rather "twere a grave,
Than such a life as this for thee thou little native slave"

I wonder if I ever shall obtain a holiday.
Oh, if I do, I'll go to you and spend it all in play!
And then I'll bring some flowers home, if you will give me some,
And at my work I'll think of them, and holidays to come!

A TABLE,

Showing the Time of Sun Rising and Setting for any place in the United States.

To find the time of Sun rising or setting for any place in the United States from the annexed Table: Take the latitude of the place on the top, and the sun's declination on the side, under the former and opposite the latter, will give the time of sun setting or rising.

Observe that this Table is calculated for the declination of the sun when North, and that when the declination is South, the time of sun rising exhibited in the Table will be time of sun setting;—also, the time of sun setting will be time of sun rising.

EXAMPLE I.

Required the time of sun rising and setting at Philadelphia, on 20th May.

In the Almanac for the month of May, oppposite 20, the day of the month, and in the column under sun dec. the sun's declination, is 20 1 N. In the annexed Table opposite 20 thus found, and under 40, the latitude of Philadelphia, the numbers 7 11 5 are given; that is 7h. 11m. for sun setting, as marked on the top, and 11 minutes before 5 for sun rising.

EXAMPLE II.

Required the time of sun rising and setting at Philadelphia on the 25th of February.

In the Almanac for the month of February, opposite 25th, the day of the month, and in the column under (sun dec.) the declination of the sun, is 9 S. In the annexed Table, opposite 9 thus found, and under 40, the numbers 6 30 6 are given, and agreeable to the directions on the top of the Table, when the declination is North, 6h. 31m. shows the sun setting, and 31 minutes before six for sun rising;—but in this instance, as the sun's declination is south, the sun rising must be taken for the sun setting, and the sun setting for the sun rising, as shown in the observation above;—therefore, on the 25th February, at Philadelphia, the sun sets at 31 minutes before 6, and rises 6h. 31m

The above Table shows the number of days from the first of January to any given day in the year. Thus, to find the number of days from January 1st to August 17th, under the given month August, and in the same horizontal line with the day of the month, the required number, 228 will be found. The number of days between any two given dates may be found thus: from the number of the table corresponding to the latter date, subtract that corresponding to the former date. For example, what number of days is there from March 9th to June 30th. The number for June 30th is 170, that for March 9th is 67, the difference, 103, is the number of days required. If a note at 60 days be given on the 9th of May, when will it be due? To the number corresponding to May 9, viz. 129, add 60, which makes 188—find this number in the table, and corresponding with this will be the month and day on which the note becomes due, viz. July 8. But if the sum should be more than 365, subtract 365 from it, and find the remainder in the table, the month and day answering will be for the following year. Thus, if the note had been dated November 19th, add 60 to 323, the sum is 382, and from this take 365, the remainder 17 corresponds to January 18, the time required.

OBSERVATIONS ON THE WEATHER.

THERE is, perhaps, no subject of more universal interest in the whole range of natural knowledge tha that of the unceasing fluctuations which take place in the atmosphere in which we are immersed. Th interest, the health, the enjoyment, or the convenience of every one is, more or lesss, constantly affected b the weather, and the general anxiety hence arising gives rise to perpetual endeavours to prognosticate it changes. In this, as in more important matters, the curiosity and credulity of the ignorant have been mad the sport of the artful and designing; and prophecies upon this subject, if less injurious than upon others have certainly not been less absurd.

But although we neither pretend to prophesy ourselves, nor to teach the art of prophesying to others, w are of opinion that useful anticipations may be formed upon the safe principle, that like causes always produc like effects. It is thus that we anticipate cold in winter and heat in summer: and, for reasons not quite a obvious, but which will be hereafter explained, we expect the driest winds in March, and a period of heav rain in July. We abjure the legend of St. Swithin, but do not doubt the experience upon which it wa engrafted. We have great respect, also, for the judgment of the gardener and the mariner upon atmospheri changes; for they form their opinions upon constant observations of phenomena which escape the attention o those who are less exposed to their influence. Observations such as these science will aid and extend, no change; and, we doubt not, that if the same pains were taken to spread the knowledge of useful invention in this department of science, as have hitherto been devoted to perpetuate error, the spirit of inquiry, assiste by such artificial means, would largely extend our knowledge of Meteorology* and its useful applications Of the advantages of such a union, we have a remarkable instance in our own days, in the adoption of th Marine Barometer. Even common sailors are now acquainted with the use of this instrument, and to it timely warnings many a valuable ship is acknowledged to owe its preservation.

Such useful knowledge in this department of nature, it will be our aim to substitute for the absurdities with which the popular almanacs have hitherto been disfigured. The unfolding of our plan we must leave to time: for few people can be aware of the extent of the information which may be extracted from the works of different individuals who have made this subject their study: information, however, which has never been collected into a popular form; but which it shall be our endeavour to divest of such unnecessary obscurity a the less learned are subject to find in the observations of scientific men.

The first step which we shall take for this purpose is to explain, as concisely as possible, the meaning o the terms in which the observations in the following pages are recorded, referring for a more full account o the practical use which may be made of them, to our subsequent ALMANACS and the Treatises on meteorology.

The Barometer, by which the first is measured, is an instrument now too well known to require description in the limited space to which this explanation must necessarily be confined. We shall, however, have something to say, hereafter, upon this instrument, and of some misconceptions of its use. The observations are recorded in inches and thousandth parts of an inch of mercury. The Thermometer, by which the variations of heat are ascertained, is also generally known. The temperature registered is that of the air in the shade; but, besides this, the power of the sun's rays is recorded, and the force of terrestrial radiation; which we cannot here further explain than by describing it as the cold produced at night upon a plot of short grass exposed to the full aspect of the sky; and which, in clear and calm weather is always considerably below the temperature of sheltered situations. The Hygrometer, by which the state of the atmosphere is ascertained with regard to moisture, is not as generally known as the two preceding instruments, and will, hereafter, require a full description: it must be sufficient, at present, to remark, that it is a contrivance by which the degree of temperature is readily noted at which moisture begins to be deposited upon a cold body, as we see in summer in the familiar instances of a bottle of wine brought from a cellar, or decanter of water fresh filled from a well. This degree is called the dew-point; and from it the degree of dryness may be accurately calculated, and the force or elasticity of the atmosphere of steam, which is always mingled with the air.

* From two Greek words, signifying the Doctrine of Celestial, i. e. Atmospherical things.

Light House Establishment.—The erection and support of Light Houses devolves on the government of the United States, as incidental to commerce. They are provided for by an annual and specific appropriation; and are placed under the direction and control of the Secretary of Treasury, but the regulations which relate to them are more immediately attended to in the office of the Fifth Auditor. For every Light House, or Floating Light, there is a keeper, who receives a stated salary per annum; each of the superintendents have, generally, several light houses under their direction, and receive, as a compensation for their services, a commission of two and a half per cent. on the amount of their disbursements.

STEPHEN GIRARD.

STEPHEN GIRARD was born at Bordeaux, in France, in, or about the year 1746. Little is known of the early period of his life; and his education is supposed to have been scanty and deficient; whether owing to the neglect of his parents, or the natural wayward-ness of youth, cannot now be known. A spirit of enterprise, a love of adventure, and a thirst of new scenes and untried situations, very early distinguished him; and no doubt, as early impelled him to leave his native land, for foreign climes and novel modes of exist-ence. It has been said, but with what truth we are not now enabled to state, that parental oppression embittered the shelter of his do-mestic roof, and inspired him with the first thought of emigration; but it is so easy for the high temperament of youth, to fancy that se-vere which is only just, and to plead the tyranny of parents, in justi-fication of their own want of filial piety, that we are bound on all occasions, to listen to such narratives as the usual figments of the young, who are naturally disposed to embellish every thing with the tints of romance; and let fancy riot, where facts are obscured from their knowledge. It is most likely, taking into consideration the pe-culiar structure of the mind of Stephen Girard, that he was impelled by the natural enterprise of his vigorous spirit, to quit the parental roof, and to launch himself at once into the boundless ocean of life, to taste its bitterest waters, or reach in safety its most secure har-bour.

At the of age twelve, or fourteen, he is supposed to have left Bordeaux, in the capacity of a cabin boy, in a vessel bound to some port in the West Indies; where he is supposed to have remained, trading in that station, between the different islands, and to the United States, until he attained to the situation of Mate; in which capacity he first arrived in this country, at the port of New York. How long he remained in that city, we are not informed. His arrival at New York was probably about the year 1775.

From N. York he removed into New Jersey, and was for some time settled at Mount Holly, when the American Army was stationed in that vicinity. He here kept a small store, and manufactured segars; a trade that he had probably acquired in some of the West India Islands.

Mr. Girard settled in Philadelphia about the year 1779. In 1783, he inhabited a small frame tenement on the scite of that elegant brick mansion in which he died; to which were annexed a range of two storied wooden stores. At this period, his commerce was confined to old iron and old rigging. He then had no ship or vessel of any description. He was a poor man—obscure, little known, and less noticed.

Mr. Girard, like all men of wealth, commenced the world with "small beginnings." At first a cabin boy; then mate of a small schooner; afterwards a shop keeper, selling segars and groceries; then keeper of a small tavern, or store in Water-street, Philadelphia, where he bottled claret, and continued his manufacture of segars—Stephen Girard successively rose to the rank of the first merchant, and the most opulent banker in the country; stimulated by never tiring industry, and unremitting in his efforts to attain an independency. Though long poor, and unsuccessful in trade, his motto, "industry and frugality," at last triumphed. With Mr. Girard, business was a passion; and like all who devote themselves with enthusiasm to any pursuit, and who are gifted with genius for their profession, he finally succeeded in realizing a fortune, without example in the history of trade, when the forlorn and destitute condition of his early life is taken into consideration. By what degrees he increased his property, cannot yet be known; and is not material to our proper estimation of his character. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Mr. Girard realized his millions from commerce—and his nights as well as days were devoted to the sorcery of the "Water Witch." At the time of his demise, his fortune is estimated to have amounted to the sum of from twelve to fifteen millions of dollars.

Mr. Girard has left several relations, who reside in Bordeaux, and this city. His brother and sister are still living in the former place; and he has two very accomplished nieces married in Philadelphia; one to John Hemphill, Esq., and another to Dr. J. Y. Clark; both gentlemen of opulence and respectability. A third niece also resides with Mrs. Clark, extremely amiable and very accomplished. He is also said to have left several nephews; whose education he was careful to promote.

No man has been more remarkable for his active personal philanthropy, than Mr. Girard; especially amidst those horrid scenes of devastating pestilence that depopulated and scourged our city, under the name of yellow fever. In 1793, more particularly, Mr. Girard was eminently distinguished for his active exertions, in ministering to the sick, and devising plans for the prevention and restriction of contagion. In this laudable, but perilous and appalling work, Mr. Girard had but few colleagues; and of those few, but one now survives, in the person of Mathew Carey, Esq., alike distinguished for his usefulness, and who has paid a just tribute of applause to the exemplary labours of Mr. Girard, in that eventful crisis.

Perhaps the first business Mr. Girard engaged in, upon his coming to Philadelphia, was that of an aquatic pedlar, up and down the borders of the Delaware, as far as Trenton—supplying the neighbouring farmers with groceries, and ready made clothing, for money, or produce. This trade he prosecuted in a small sail boat; returning every fortnight or three weeks, for a fresh supply. The acquaintances he had contracted with the farmers whilst keeping store at Mount Holly, had no doubt suggested, as it afterwards facilitated, this exchange of products.

It was long before Mr. Girard grew rich; for no man accumulates immense wealth by sudden means. Industry is tardy and progressive in her gains, and even speculation, when most favourable, is counterbalanced by adverse chances, that often substract from the harvest of good fortune. Mr. Girard was occupied in commerce, when it made fortunes for all its votaries—but when the "Water Witch" turned her smiles from trade, he wisely directed the greater portion of his immense capital into other and more secure, but less profitable channels: and thus continued to reap a moderate, but certain harvest, at a time, when others were losing even their seed-grain.

Immediately prior to the expiration of the charter of the old bank of the United States in 1810 & 11, Mr. Girard, upon consultation with Geo. Simpson, Esq. who calculated on the renewal of the charter, had instructed the Messrs. Barings, of London, to purchase for him a large amount of the stock of the Bank of the United States; which they accordingly did, to the nett value of one million eight hundred thousand dollars, under the expectation of the renewal of the charter, and a consequent realization of immense profits. Disappointed in this object, he determined to establish a private Bank, under the superintendance of the late George Simpson, the Cashier of that Institution; to whom he chiefly confided its transactions; contenting himself with the mere approval of its discounting transactions. This was in 1812, since which the capital of the Bank has augmented to Five Millions.

A more useful and liberal application of his surplus capital, to the wants of the mercantile community, at that peculiar crisis, and at the common rate of interest, could not well have been imagined. His bank, conducted on liberal principles, realized profit to himself and immense facilities to the public. The capital of the old Bank of the United States had then just been abstracted from circulation, and Mr. Girard's two millions went far to arrest bankruptcies, ease the money market, and restore public confidence and credit to their wonted elasticity.

Mr. Girard became a very heavy subscriber to the present Bank of the United States; in the management of which, he was for many years active and efficient; always on the side of sound principles, and firmly opposed to its measures during the era of the speculation in its stock. At the time of its institution, he had government deposits to the amount of One Million in his Bank, which was paid into the vaults of the new institution with great rapidity, and so efficiently in the form of specie, as to contribute essentially to the restoration of the currency to its ancient metallic soundness. In a very short time, he brought the Bank of the United States into his debt, and with few exceptions, ever after kept it so. Few of the monied institutions of the country, could have accomplished as much as this opulent banker, to aid the government in producing the resumption of specie payments.

Although apposed to the system of speculation in the stock of the Bank of the United States, Mr. Girard could not fail to profit by the public delirium that it had excited. By the stock he sold out at that period, he gained a clear half MILLION of dollars, when it commanded 150 to 160 advance; still retaining a share in the stock greater than that of any other individual in the country.

The loan of FIVE MILLIONS was taken by Mr. Girard, of the government, in the darkest hour of the last war; and when trembling at the brink—or, rather floundering in the gulf of bankruptcy and discredit. The temptation of great profit was certainly powerful, to receive 100 seven per cent. stock for 70! But on the other hand, the risk of loss appeared great—public credit had expired, and the hopes of the stoutest hearts began to wither. It was an hour that "tried men's souls," and locked up the capital of the country in the vaults of fear and suspicion. Great as was the temptation of profit, few were found willing to put their capital in jeopardy, under the frowning aspect of the times; when the UNION was hanging by a single hair, and the country every day falling into the hands of the enemy.

The habits of Mr. Girard were exclusively those of the man of business. He had no pleasures, but in the performance of active duties: always to be found busy in his compting room, or bustling on his farm, for he was also fond of Agriculture; feeding his own cattle, curing his own beef, and even bestowing his attention on the culture of a vegetable garden, the produce of which he caused to be taken to market. His fruits and his flowers were also of the most choice kind. But in his hands, for his was the touch of Midas, every thing was turned into gold; and fruits, flowers, vegetables, ships, houses, lots, Bank, and all, contributed in the end, to pour millions in his lap. Like all men of immense wealth, it was his peculiar delight, to cast his eyes over the aggregate of his millions. But he took most pleasure in adding house to house, lot to lot, until he could count his squares of buildings, and found it impossible to count the number of his deeds, parchments, and warrants. To the Schuylkill Navigation Company, he was an efficient friend, in the hour of need—as well as to the Chesapeake Canal Company, and other public works of vast importance, and lasting utility. In the arduous struggle of the Bank of the United States to resume specie payments, Mr. Girard, under the councils and influence of his Cashier, Mr. Simpson, was essentially instrumental in producing that result; as well as interposing his voice to reclaim the Bank from the gulf of speculation, and place it on a proper basis; for which he offered to the Bank of the United States all his capital, SPECIE, &c., if they would appoint George

Simpson, Cashier, and conduct it on his legitimate principles.

Mr. Girard has no children to mourn his demise—but the whole community will feel his sudden departure, and our city long have cause to deplore his exit to the world of spirits!

In one sense, and in the best sense, Mr. Girard may be justly called a PUBLIC BENEFACTOR; not less for the public improvements he projected and accomplished during his life time, which were unequaled by those of any other individual—than for the beneficent PUBLIC OBJECTS, for which he has bequeathed the chief part of his fortune. Even at the time of his death, his operations as a Merchant were very extensive; and the commerce of Philadelphia will long deplore the abstraction of his capital from its business.

The great PUBLIC BENEFACTIONS made by the WILL of Stephen Girard, which we here annex, and which cannot fail to excite the interest and curiosity of every rational mind—proclaim him as one of the first PHILANTHROPISTS OF THE AGE; and however individual selfishness among his friends or his kinsmen, might regret the direction his immense fortune has taken—but which we believe is not the case—yet an enlightened benevolence will rejoice, that his great wealth has been devised, with unparalleled patriotism and public spirit, for the BENEFIT OF THE COMMUNITY; and not the gratification of private passions, or individual avarice.

His liberal endowments for the purposes of EDUCATION, would alone shed lustre on his name, and insure him an immortality in the hearts of all future generations. To enlighten the mind of the people, is to improve their virtue and extend their usefulness, not less than their happiness, comfort, and freedom.

Mr. Girard's understanding in point of intellectual power, was certainly one of the first order. He thought much, and thought profoundly—but as is often the case with the strongest minds, his train of reflection was frequently apt to describe an eccentric orbit. Yet in the ordinary affairs of business, he was, for that very reason, more correct, or if you please, more fortunate than the regular right angled speculators of the day. His principal trait of mind, was anticipation. He had digested topics, when others were only beginning to think of them; and the common observer was often astonished to find, that what he thought he was communicating as news to Mr. Girard, was a matter quite familiar to him; and that on the strength of it, he was already employed in loading a ship, or prosecuting a speculation.

Mr. Girard, in his person, was of stout frame, about five feet six inches in height. His manners were plain; and in conversation he was taciturn, except on business, and being generally engaged by his numerous avocations, he was impatient of all conversation, except what related to his pursuits on hand. In his mode of living he was plain, simple, and void of ostentation. The routine of high life, never had charms to withdraw him from his early habits of simplicity, even in the zenith of his fortune. His recreation was business—he knew no other pleasure, and labour was to him delight. He was particularly fond of working on his farm; and he out-worked all the labourers he employed. At the very close of life, he allowed himself no respite from business; never dreamed of retiring; but in the words of our great dramatic poet, adapted to his civil pursuits, he may be said to have "died with harness on his back."

OF THE LATE

STEPHEN GIRARD, ESQ.

XVI. All persons, who, at the time of my decease, shall be bound to me by indenture, as apprentices or servants, and who shall then be under age, I direct my executors to assign to suitable masters immediately after my decease, for the remainder of their respective terms, on conditions as favourable as they can in regard to education, clothing and freedom dues; to each of the said persons in my service and under age at the time of my decease, I give and bequeath the sum of Five Hundred Dollars, which sums respectively I direct my executors safely to invest in public stock, to apply the interest and dividends thereof, towards the education of the several apprentices or servants, for whom the capital is given respectively, and at the termination of the apprenticeship or service of each, to pay to him or her the said sum of five hundred dollars and any interest accrued thereon, if any such interest shall remain unexpended; in assigning any indenture, preference shall be given to the mother, father, or next relation,

XIX. All that part of my real and personal estate, near Washita, in the State of Louisiana, the said real estate consisting of upwards of two hundred and eight thousand arpens, or acres of land, and including therein the settlement hereinafter mentioned, I give, devise, and bequeath, as follows, namely: 1. I give, devise and bequeath to the Corporation of the City of New Orleans, their successors and assigns, all that part of my real estate, constituting the settlement formed on my behalf by my particular friend, Judge Henry Bree, of Washita, consisting of upwards of one thousand arpens, or acres of land, with the appurtenances and improvements thereon, and also all the personal estate thereto belonging, and thereon remaining, including upwards of thirty slaves now on said settlement, and their increase, in trust, however, and subject to the following reservations:

I desire, that no part of the said estate or property, or the slaves thereon, or their increase, shall be disposed of or sold for the term of twenty years from and after my decease, should the said Judge Henry Bree survive me and live so long, but that the said settlement shall be kept up by the said Judge Henry Bree, for and during said term of twenty years, as if it was his own; that is, it shall remain under his sole care and control, he shall improve the same by raising such produce as he may deem most advisable, and, after paying taxes, and all expenses in keeping up the settlement, by clothing the slaves and otherwise, he shall have and enjoy for his own use all the nett profits of said settlement. Provided, however, and I desire that the said Judge Henry Bree shall render annually to the Corporation of the City of New Orleans, a report of the state of the settlement, the income and expenditure thereof, the number and increase of the slaves, and the nett result of the whole. I desire that, at the expiration of the said term of twenty years, or on the decease of the said Judge Henry Bree, should he not live so long, the land and improvements forming said settlement, the slaves thereon, or thereto belonging, and all other appurtenant personal property, shall be sold, as soon as the said Corporation shall deem it advisable to do so, and the proceeds of the said sale or sales shall be applied by the said Corporation to such uses and purposes as they shall consider most likely to promote the health and general prosperity of the inhabitants of the City of New Orleans. But, until the said sale shall be made, the said Corporation shall pay all taxes, prevent waste or intrusion, and so manage the said settlement and the slaves, and their increase thereon, as to derive an income, and the said income shall be applied from time to time, to the same uses and purposes for the health and general prosperity of the said inhabitants.

2. I give, devise, and bequeath to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Philadelphia, their successors and assigns, two undivided third parts of all the rest and residue of my said real estate, being the lands unimproved near Washita, in the said State of Louisiana, in trust, that, in common with the Corporation of the City of New Orleans, they shall pay the taxes on the said lands, and preserve them from waste or intrusion, for the term of ten years from and after my decease, and, at the end of the said term, when they shall deem it advisable to do so, shall sell and dispose of their interest in said lands gradually from time to time, and apply the proceeds of such sales to the same uses and purposes hereinafter declared and directed, of and concerning the residue of my personal estate.

3. And I give, devise, and bequeath to the Corporation of the City of New Orleans, their successors and assigns, the remaining one undivided third part of the said lands, in trust, in common with the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia, to pay the taxes on the said lands, and preserve them from waste and intrusion, for the term of ten years from and after my decease, and, at the end of the said term when they shall deem it advisable to do so, to sell and dispose of their interest in said lands gradually from time to time, and to apply the proceeds of such sales to such uses and purposes as the said Corporation may consider most likely to promote the health and general prosperity of the inhabitants of the City of New Orleans.

XX. And whereas, I have been for a long time impressed with the importance of educating the poor, and of placing them by the early cultivation of their minds and the development of their moral principles above the many temptations, to which, through poverty and ignorance they are exposed; and I am particularly desirous to provide for such a number of poor male white ophan children, as can be trained in one institution, a better education, as well as a more comfortable maintenance than they usually receive from the application of the public funds: And whereas, together with the object just adverted to, I have sincerely at heart the welfare of the City of Philadelphia, and, as a part of it, am desirous to improve the neighbourhood of the river Delaware, so that the health of the citizens may be promoted and preserved, and that the eastern part of the city may be made to correspond better with the interior:

Now, I do give, devise and bequeath all the residue and remainder of my Real and Personal Estate of every sort and kind wheresoever situate, (the real estate in Pennsylvania charged as aforesaid) unto "the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia," their successors and assigns, in trust, to and for the several uses, intents, and purposes hereinafter mentioned and declared of and concerning the same, that is to say: So far as regards my real estate in Pennsylvania, in trust, that no part thereof shall ever be sold or alienated by the said the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia, or their successors, but the same shall for ever thereafter be let from time to time, to good tenants, at yearly, or other rents, and upon leases in possession not exceeding five years from the commencement thereof, and that the rents, issues, and profits arising therefrom shall be applied towards keeping that part of the said real estate situate in the city and liberties of Philadelphia constantly in good repair, (parts elsewhere situate to be kept in repair by the tenants thereof respectively) and towards improving the same, whenever necessary, by erecting new buildings, and that the nett residue (after paying the several annuities herein before provided for) be applied to the same uses and purposes as are herein declared of and concerning the residue of my personal estate: And so far as regards my real estate in Kentucky, now under the care of Messrs. Triplett and Burmley, in trust, to sell and dispose of the same, whenever it may be expedient to do so, and to apply the proceeds of such sale to the same uses and purposes as are herein declared of and concerning the residue of my personal estate.

XXI. And so far as regards the residue of my personal estate, in trust, as to Two Millions of Dollars, part thereof to apply and expend so much of that sum as may be necessary—in erecting, as soon as practicably may be, in the centre of my square of ground between High and Chesnut Streets, and Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, in the City of Philadelphia, (which square of ground I hereby devote for the purposes hereinafter stated, and for no other, for ever,) a permanent college, with suitable out-buildings, sufficiently spacious for the residence and accommodation of at least three hundred scholars, and the requisite teachers and other persons necessary in such an institution as I direct to be established: and in supplying the said college and out-buildings with decent and suitable furniture, as well as books and all things needful to carry into effect my general design.

The said college shall be constructed with the most durable materials, and in the most permanent manner, avoiding needless ornament, and attending chiefly to the strength, convenience, and neatness of the whole: It shall be at least one hundred and ten feet east and west, and one hundred and sixty feet north and south, and shall be built on lines parallel with High and Chesnut Streets and Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, provided those lines shall constitute at their junction right angles: It shall be three stories in height, each story at least fifteen feet high in the clear from the floor to the cornice: It shall be fire-proof inside and outside. The floors and the roof to be formed of solid materials, on arches turned on proper centres, so that no wood may be used, except for doors, windows and shutters: Cellars shall be made under the whole building, solely for the purposes of the institution; the doors to them from the outside shall be on the east and west of the building, and access to them from the inside shall be had by steps, descending to the cellar floor from each of the entries or halls hereinafter mentioned, and the inside cellar doors to open under the stairs on the north-east and north-west corners of the northern entry, and under the stairs on the south-east and south-west corners of the southern entry; there should be a cellar window under and in a line with each window in the first story—they should be built one half below, the other half above the surface of the ground, and the ground outside each window should be supported by stout walls; the sashes should open inside, on hinges, like doors, and there should be strong iron bars outside each window; the windows inside and outside should not be less than four feet wide in the clear: There shall be in each story four rooms, each room not less than fifty feet square in the clear; the four rooms on each floor to occupy the whole space east and west on such floor or story, and the middle of the building north and south; so that in the north of the building, and in the south thereof, there may remain a space of equal dimensions, for an entry or hall in each, for stairs and landings: In the north-east and in the north-west corners of the northern entry or hall on the first floor, stairs shall be made so as to form a double stair-case, which shall be carried up through the several stories; and, in like manner, in the south-east and south-west corners of the southern entry or hall, stairs shall be made, on the first floor, so as to form a double stair-case, to be carried up through the several stories; the steps of the stairs to be made of smooth white marble, with plain square edges, each step not to exceed nine inches in the rise, nor to be less than ten inches in the tread; the outside and inside foundation walls shall be at least ten feet high in the clear from the ground to the ceiling; the first floor shall be at least three feet above the level of the ground around the building, after that ground shall have been so regulated as that there shall be a gradual descent from the centre to the sides of the square formed by High and Chesnut and Eleventh and Twelfth Streets: all the outside foundation walls, forming the cellars, shall be three feet six inches thick up to the first floor, or as high as may be necessary to fix the centres for the first floor; and the inside foundation wall, running north and south, and the three inside foundation walls running east and west (intended to receive the interior walls for the four rooms, each not less than fifty feet square in the clear, above mentioned), shall be three feet thick up to the first floor, or as high as may be necessary to fix the centres for the first floor when carried so far up, the outside walls shall be reduced to two feet in thickness, leaving a recess outside of one foot, and inside, of six inches—and when carried so far up, the inside foundation walls shall also be reduced, six inches on each side, to the thickness of two feet; centres shall then be fixed on the various recesses of six inches throughout, left for the purpose, the proper arches shall be turned, and the first floor laid; the outside and the inside walls shall then be carried up of the thickness of two feet throughout, as high as may be necessary to begin the recess intended to fix the centres for the second floor, that is, the floor for the four rooms, each not less than fifty feet square in the clear, and for the landing in the north, and the landing in the south of the building, where the stairs are to go up—at this stage of the work, a chain, composed of bars of inch square iron, each bar about ten feet long, and linked together by hooks formed of the ends of the bars, shall be laid straightly and horizontally along the several walls, and shall be as tightly as possible worked into the centre of them throughout, and shall be secured wherever necessary, especially at all the angles, by iron clamps solidly fastened, so as to prevent cracking or swerving in any part; centres shall then be laid, the proper arches turned for the second floor and landings, and the second floor and landings shall be laid; the outside and the inside walls shall then be carried up of the same thickness of two feet throughout as high as may be necessary to begin in the recess intended to fix the centres for the third floor and landings, and, when so far carried up, another chain similar in all respects to that used at the second story, shall be in like manner worked into the walls throughout as tightly as possible, and clamped in the same way with equal care; centres shall be formed, the proper arches turned, and the third floor and landings shall be laid: the outside and the inside walls shall then be carried up, of the same thickness of two feet throughout, as high as may be necessary to begin the recess intended to fix the centres for the roof; and, when so carried up, a third chain, in all respects like those used at the second and third stories, shall in the manner before described, be worked as tightly as possible into the walls throughout, and shall be clamped with equal care; centres shall now be fixed in the manner best adapted for the roof, which is to form the ceiling for the third story, the proper arches shall be turned, and the roof shall be laid as nearly horizontally as may be, consistently with the easy passage of water to the eaves: the outside walls still of the thickness of two feet throughout, shall then be carried up about two feet above the level of the platform, and shall have marble capping, with a strong and neat iron railing thereon: The outside walls shall be faced with slabs or blocks of marble or granite, not less than two feet thick, and fastened together with clamps securely sunk therein,—they shall be carried up flush from the recess of one foot formed at the first floor where the foundation outside wall is reduced to two feet: The floors and landings as well as the roof shall be covered with marble slabs, securely laid in mortar; the slabs on the roof to be twice as thick as those on the floors. In constructing the walls, as well as in turning the arches, and laying the floors, landings, and roof, good and strong mortar and grout, shall be used, so that no cavity whatever may any where remain. A furnace or furnaces for the generation of heated air shall be placed in the cellar, and the heated air shall be introduced in adequate quantity wherever wanted by means of pipes and flues inserted and made for the purpose in the walls, and as those walls shall be constructed. In case it shall be found expedient for the purposes of a library, or otherwise, to increase the number of rooms, by dividing any of those directed to be not less than fifty feet square in the clear, into parts, the partition walls to be of solid materials. A room most suitable for the purpose, shall be set apart for the reception, and preservation of my books and papers, and I direct that they shall be placed there by my executors, and carefully preserved therein. There shall be two principal doors of entrance into the college, one into the entry or hall on the first floor, in the north of the building, and in the centre between the east and west walls, the other into the entry or hall in the south of the building, and in the centre between the east and west walls; the dimensions to be determined by a due regard to the size of the entire building, to that of the entry, and to the purposes of the doors. The necessity for, as well as the position and size of, other doors, internal or external, and also the position and size of the windows, to be, in like manner, decided on by a consideration of the uses to which the building is to be applied, the size of the building itself, and of the several rooms, and of the advantages of light and air: there should in each instance be double doors, those opening into the rooms to be what are termed glass doors, so as to increase the quantity of light for each room, and those opening outward to be of substantial wood work well lined and secured; the windows of the second and third stories I recommend to be made in the style of those in the first and second stories of my present dwelling house, North Water Street, on the eastern front thereof; and outside each window I recommend that a substantial and neat iron balcony be placed sufficiently wide, to admit the opening of the shutters against the walls; the windows of the lower story to be in the same style except that they are not to descend to the floor, but so far as the surbase, up to which the wall is to be carried, as is the case in the lower story of my house at my place in Passyunk Township. In minute particulars, not here noticed, utility and good taste should determine. There should be at least four outbuildings, detached from the main edifice and from each other, and in such positions as shall at once answer the purposes of the institution, and be consistent with the symmetry of the whole establishment: each building should be, as far as practicable, devoted to a distinct purpose; in that one or more of those buildings, in which they may be most useful, I direct my executors to place my plate and furniture of every sort.

The entire square, formed by High and Chesnut Streets, and Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, shall be enclosed with a solid wall, at least fourteen inches thick, and ten feet high, capped with marble and guarded with irons on the top, so as to prevent persons from getting over; there shall be two places of entrance into the square, one in the centre of the wall facing High Street, and the other in the centre of the wall facing Chesnut Street; at each place of entrance there shall be two gates, one opening inward, and the other outward; those opening inward to be of iron, and in the style of the gates north and south of my Banking house; and those opening outward to be of substantial wood work well lined and secured on the faces thereof with sheet iron. The messuages now erected on the south-east corner of High and Twelfth Streets, and on Twelfth Street, to be taken down and removed as soon as the college and out-buildings shall have been erected, so that the establishment may be rendered secure and private.

When the college and appurtenances shall have been constructed, and supplied with plain and suitable furniture and books, philosophical and experimental instruments and apparatus, and all other matters needful to carry my general design into execution; the income, issues and profits of so much of the said sum of two millions of dollars as shall remain unexpended, shall be applied to maintain the said college according to my directions.

1. The institution shall be organized as soon as practicable, and to accomplish that purpose more effectually, due public notice of the intended opening of the college shall be given—so that there may be an opportunity to make selections of competent instructors, and other agents, and those who may have the charge of orphans, may be aware of the provisions intended for them.

2. A competent number of instructors, teachers, assistants, and other necessary agents, shall be selected, and when needful, their places from time to time supplied: they shall receive adequate compensation for their services: but no person shall be employed, who shall not be of tried skill in his or her proper department, of established moral character, and in all cases persons shall be chosen on account of their merit, and not through favour or intrigue.

3. As many poor white male orphans, between the ages of six and ten years, as the said income shall be adequate to maintain, shall be introduced into the college as soon as possible; and from time to time as there may be vacancies, or as increased ability from income may warrant, others shall be introduced.

4. On the application for admission, an accurate statement should be taken in a book prepared for the purpose, of the name, birthplace, age, health, condition as to relatives, and other particulars useful to be known of each orphan.

5. No orphan should be admitted until the guardians or directors of the poor, or a proper guardian or other competent authority, shall have given, by indenture, relinquishment, or otherwise, adequate power to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Philadelphia, or to directors, or others by them appointed, to enforce, in relation to each orphan, every proper restraint, and to prevent relatives or others from interfering with, or withdrawing such orphan from the institution.

6. Those orphans, for whose admission application shall first be made, shall be first introduced, all other things concurring—and at all future times, priority of application shall entitle the applicant to preference in admission, all other things concurring; but if there shall be at any time, more applicants than vacancies, and the applying orphans shall have been born in different places, a preference shall be given—first, to orphans born in the city of Philadelphia; secondly, to those born in any other part of Pennsylvania; thirdly, to those born in the city of New York (that being the first port on the continent of North America at which I arrived); and lastly, to those born in the city of New Orleans, being the first port on the said continent at which I first traded, in the first instance as first officer, and subsequently as master and part owner of a vessel and cargo.

7. The orphans admitted into the college, shall be there fed with plain but wholesome food, clothed with plain but decent apparel, (no distinctive dress ever to be worn) and lodged in a plain but safe manner: Due regard shall be paid to their health, and to this end their persons and clothes shall be kept clean, and they shall have suitable and rational exercise and recreation: They shall be instructed in the various branches of a sound education, comprehending reading, writing, grammar, arithmetic, geography, navigation, surveying, practical mathematics, astronomy, natural, chemical, and experimental philosophy, the French and Spanish languages, (I do not forbid, but I do not recommend the Greek and Latin languages)—and such other learning and science as the capacities of the several scholars may merit or warrant: I would have them taught facts and things, rather than words or signs: And, especially, I desire, that by every proper means a pure attachment to our republican institutions, and to the sacred rights of conscience, as guaranteed by our happy constitutions, shall be formed and fostered in the minds of the scholars.

8. Should it unfortunately happen, that any of the orphans, admitted into the college, shall, from misconduct, have become unfit companions for the rest, and mild means of reformation prove abortive, they should no longer remain therein.

9. Those scholars, who shall merit it, shall remain in the college until they shall respectively arrive at between fourteen and eighteen years of age; they shall then be bound out by the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia, or under their direction, to suitable occupations, as those of agriculture, navigation, arts, mechanical trades, and manufactures, according to the capacities and acquirements of the scholars respectively, consulting, as far as prudence shall justify it, the inclinations of the several scholars, as to the occupation, art, or trade, to be learned.

In relation to the organization of the college and its appendages, I leave, necessarily, many details to the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia, and their successors; and I do so, with the more confidence, as, from the nature of my bequests and the benefit to result from them, I trust that my fellow citizens of Philadelphia, will observe and evince especial care and anxiety in selecting members for their city councils, and other agents.

There are, however, some restrictions, which I consider it my duty to prescribe, and to be, amongst others, conditions on which my bequest for said college is made and to be enjoyed, namely: first, I enjoin and require, that, if, at the close of any year, the income of the fund devoted to the purposes of the said college shall be more than sufficient for the maintenance of the institution during that year, then the balance of the said income, after defraying such maintenance, shall be forthwith invested in good securities, thereafter to be and remain a part of the capital; but, in no event, shall any part of the said capital be sold, disposed of, or pledged, to meet the current expenses of the said institution, to which I devote the interest, income, and dividends thereof, exclusively: Secondly, I enjoin and require that no ecclesiastic, missionary, or minister of any sect whatsoever, shall ever hold or exercise any station or duty whatever in the said college; nor shall any such person ever be admitted for any purpose, or as a visitor, within the premises appropriated to the purposes of the said college:—In making this restriction, I do not mean to cast any reflection upon any sect or person whatsoever; but, as there is such a multitude of sects, and such a diversity of opinion amongst them, I desire to keep the tender minds of the orphans, who are to derive advantage from this bequest, free from the excitement, which clashing doctrines and sectarian controversy are so apt to produce; my desire is, that all the instructors and teachers in the college shall take pains to instil into the minds of the scholars, the purest principles of morality, so that, on their entrance into active life, they may from inclination and habit, evince benevolence towards their fellow creatures, and a love of truth, sobriety and industry, adopting at the same time such religious tenets as their matured reason may enable them to prefer.—If the income, arising from that part of the said sum of two millions of dollars, remaining after the construction and furnishing of the college and out-buildings, shall, owing to the increase of the number of orphans applying for admission, or other cause, be inadequate to the construction of new buildings, or the maintenance and education of as many orphans as may apply for admission, then such further sum as may be necessary for the construction of new buildings and the maintenance and education of such further number of orphans, as can be maintained and instructed within such buildings as the said square of ground shall be adequate to, shall be taken from the final residuary fund hereinafter expressly referred to for the purpose, comprehending the income of my real estate in the city and county of Philadelphia, and the dividends of my stock in the Schuylkill Navigation Company—my design and desire being, that the benefits of said institution shall be extended to as great a number of orphans as the limits of the said square and buildings therein can accommodate.

XXII. And as to the further sum of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars, part of the residue of my personal estate, in trust, to invest the same securely, and to keep the same so invested, and to apply the income thereof exclusively to the following purposes: that is to say—

1. To lay out, regulate, curb, light and pave a passage or street, on the east part of the city of Philadelphia, fronting the river Delaware, not less than twenty-one feet wide, and to be called Delaware Avenue, extending from South or Cedar Street, all along the east part of Water Street squares, and the west side of the logs, which form the heads of the docks, or thereabouts; and to this intent to obtain such Acts of Assembly, and to make such purchases or agreements, as will enable the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia to remove or pull down all the buildings, fences and obstructions which may be in the way, and to prohibit all buildings, fences, or erections of any kind to the eastward of said Avenue; to fill up the heads of such of the docks as may not afford sufficient room for the said street; to compel the owners of wharves to keep them clean and covered completely with gravel or other hard materials, and to be so levelled that water will not remain thereon after a shower of rain; to completely clean and keep clean all the docks within the limits of the city, fronting on the Delaware; and to pull down all platforms carried out, from the east part of the city over the river Delaware on piles or pillars.

2. To pull down and remove all wooden buildings, as well those made of wood and other combustible materials, as those called brick-paned, or frame buildings filled in with bricks, that are erected within the limits of the city of Philadelphia, and also to prohibit the erection of any such building, within the said city's limits at any future time.

3. To regulate, widen, pave and curb Water Street, and to distribute the Schuylkill water therein upon the following plan, that is to say—that Water Street be widened east and west from Vine Street all the way to South Street, in like manner as it is from the front of my dwelling to the front of my stores on the west side of Water Street, and the regulation of the curb-stones continued at the same distance from one another, as they are at present opposite to the said dwelling and stores, so that the regulation of the said street be not less than thirty-nine feet wide, and afford a large and convenient footway, clear of obstructions and incumbrances of every nature, and the cellar doors on which, if any shall be permitted, not to extend from the buildings on to the footway more than four feet; the said width to be increased gradually, as the fund shall permit, and as the capacity to remove impediments shall increase, until there shall be a correct and permanent regulation of Water Street, on the principles above stated, so that it may run north and south as straight as possible. That the ten feet middle Alley, belonging to the public, and running from the centre of the east squares to Front Street all the way down across Water Street to the river Delaware, be kept open and cleaned as city property, all the way from Vine to South Street; that such part of each centre or middle Alley as runs from Front to Water Street, be arched over with bricks or stone, in so strong a manner as to facilitate the building of plain and permanent stone steps and platforms, so that they may be washed and kept constantly clean; and that the continuance of the said Alleys, from the east side of Water Street be curbed all the way to the river Delaware, and kept open forever. (I understand that those middle or centre Alleys, were left open in the first plan of the lots, on the east front of the city, which were granted from the east side of Front Street to the river Delaware, and that each lot on said east front has contributed to make those Alleys by giving a part of their ground in proportion to the size of each lot; those Alleys were in the first instance, and still are, considered public property, intended for the convenience of the inhabitants residing in Front Street to go down to the river for water and other purposes; but, owing to neglect or to some other cause, on the part of those who have had the care of the city property, several encroachments have been made on them by individuals, by wholly occupying, or building over them, or otherwise, and in that way the inhabitants, more particularly those who reside in the neighbourhood, are deprived of the benefit of that wholesome air, which their opening and cleansing throughout would afford.) That the iron pipes, in Water Street, which, by being of smaller size than those in the other streets, and too near the surface of the ground, cause constant leaks, particularly in the winter season, which in many places render the street impassible, be taken up and replaced by pipes of the same size, quality and dimensions in every respect, and laid down as deeply from the surface of the ground, as the iron pipes, which are laid in the main streets of the city; and as it respects pumps for Schuylkill water and fire-plugs in Water Street, that one of each be fixed at the south-west corner of Vine and Water Streets, and so running southward, one of each near the steps of the centre Alley, going up to Front Street; One of each at the south-west corner of Sassafras and Water Streets, one of each near the steps of the centre Alley going up to Front Street, and so on at every south-west corner of all the main streets and Water Street, and of the centre Alleys of every square, as far as South or Cedar Street; and when the same shall have been completed, that all Water Street shall be repaved by the best workmen, in the most complete manner, with the best paving water-stones, after the height of the curb-stones shall have been regulated throughout, as well as the ascent and descent of the street, in such manner as to conduct the water through the main streets and the centre Alleys to the river Delaware, as far as practicable; and whenever any part of the street shall want to be raised, to use nothing but good paving gravel for that purpose, so as to make the paving as permanent as possible. By all which improvements, it is my intention to place and maintain the section of the city above referred to, in a condition which will correspond better with the general cleanliness and appearance of the whole city, and be more consistent with the safety, health, and comfort of the citizens. And my mind and will are, that all the income, interest, and dividends of the said capital sum of five hundred thousand dollars, shall be yearly, and every year, expended upon the said objects, in the order in which I have stated them as closely as possible, and upon no other objects until those enumerated shall have been attained; and, when those objects shall have been accomplished, I authorize and direct the said The Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens, to apply such part of the income of the said capital sum of five hundred thousand dollars, as they may think proper to the further improvement, from time to time, of the eastern or Delaware front of the city.

XXIII. I give and bequeath to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars, for the purpose of internal improvement by canal navigation, to be paid into the State treasury by my executors, as soon as such laws shall have been enacted by the constituted authorities of the said Commonwealth as shall be necessary, and amply sufficient to carry into effect, or to enable the constituted authorities of the city of Philadelphia to carry into effect the several improvements above specified; namely, 1. Laws, to cause Delaware Avenue, as above described, to be made, paved, curbed, and lighted; to cause the buildings, fences, and other obstructions now existing to be abated and removed; and to prohibit the creation of any such obstructions to the eastward of said Delaware Avenue; 2. Laws, to cause all wooden buildings as above described to be removed, and to prohibit their future erection within the limits of the city of Philadelphia; 3. Laws, providing for the gradual widening, regulating, paving, and curbing Water Street, as herein before described, and also for the repairing the middle alleys, and introducing the Schuylkill water, and pumps, as before specified—all which objects may, I persuade myself, be accomplished on principles at once just in relation to individuals, and highly beneficial to the public: the said sum, however, not to be paid, unless said laws be passed within one year after my decease.

XXIV. And as it regards the remainder of said residue of my personal estate, in trust, to invest the same in good securities, and in like manner to invest the interest and income thereof from time to time, so that the whole shall form a permanent fund; and to apply the income of the said fund,

1st. To the further improvement and maintenance of the aforesaid College, as directed in the last paragraph of the XXIst clause of this Will:

2d. To enable the Corporation of the City of Philadelphia to provide more effectually than they now do, for the security of the persons and property of the inhabitants of the said City, by a competent police, including a sufficient number of watchmen, really suited to the purpose; and to this end, I recommend a division of the City, into watch districts, or four parts, each under a proper head, and that, at least two watchman shall, in each round or station, patrole together.

3d. To enable the said Corporation to improve the City property, and the general appearance of the City itself, and, in effect, to diminish the burden of taxation, now most oppressive, especially on those who are the least able to bear it:—

To all which objects, the prosperity of the City, and the health and comfort of its inhabitants, I devote the said fund as aforesaid, and direct the income thereof to be applied yearly and every year forever, after providing for the College as hereinbefore directed, as my primary object. But, if the said City shall knowingly and wilfully violate any of the conditions hereinbefore and hereinafter mentioned, then I give and bequeath the said remainder and accumulations to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the purposes of internal navigation; excepting, however, the rents, issues, and profits of my real estate in the City and County of Philadelphia, which shall forever be reserved and applied to maintain the aforesaid College, in the manner specified in the last paragraph of the XXIst clause of this Will: And if the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall fail to apply this or the preceding bequest to the purposes beforementioned, or shall apply any part thereof to any other use, or shall, for the term of one year, from the time of my decease, fail or omit to pass the laws hereinbefore specified for promoting the improvement of the City of Philadelphia, then I give, devise and bequeath the said remainder and accumulations (the rents aforesaid always excepted and reserved for the College as aforesaid) to the United States of America, for the purposes of internal navigation, and no other.

Provided, nevertheless, and I do hereby declare, that all the preceding bequests and devises of the residue of my estate to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Philadelphia, are made upon the following express conditions, that is to say:—First, That none of the monies, principal, interest, dividends, or rents, arising from the said residuary devise and bequest, shall at any time be applied to any other purpose or purposes whatever, than those herein mentioned and appointed:—Second, That separate accounts, distinct from the other accounts of the Corporation, shall be kept by the said Corporation, concerning the said devise, bequest, College, and funds, and of the investment and application thereof; and that a separate account or accounts of the same shall be kept in bank, not blended with any other account, so that it may at all times appear on examination by a committee of the Legislature as hereinafter mentioned, that my intentions had been fully complied with:—Third, That the said Corporation render a detailed account annually, in duplicate, to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at the commencement of the session, one copy for the Senate, and the other for the House of Representatives, concerning the said devised and bequeathed estate, and the investment and application of the same, and also a report in like manner of the state of the said college, and shall submit all their books, papers, and acconnts touching the same, to a committee or committees of the Legislature for examination, when the same shall be required.

Fourth, the said Corporation shall also cause to be published in the month of January, annually, in two or more newspapers, printed in the City of Philadelphia, a concise but plain account of the state of the trusts, devises and bequests herein declared and made, comprehending the condition of the said college, the number of scholars, and other particulars needful to be publicly known, for the year next preceding the said month of January, annually.

XXV. And whereas I have executed an assignment, in trust, of my banking establishment, to take effect the day before my decease, to the intent that all the concerns thereof may be closed by themselves, without being blended with the concerns of my general estate, and the balance remaining to be paid over to my executors: Now, I do hereby direct my executors, hereinaftermentioned, not to interfere with the said trust in any way except to see that the same is faithfully executed, and to aid the execution thereof by all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and expedient to effectuate the same, so that it my be speedily closed, and the balance paid over to my executors, to go, as in my Will, into the residue of my estate: And I do hereby authorize, direct, and empower the said trustees, from time to time, as the capital of the said bank shall be received, and shall not be wanted for the discharge of the debts due thereat, to invest the same in good securities in the names of my executors, and to hand over the same to them, to be disposed of according to this my Will.

XXVI. Lastly, I do hereby nominate and appoint Timothy Paxson, Thomas P. Cope, Joseph Roberts, William J. Duane, and John A. Barclay, executors of this my last Will and Testament: I recommend to them to close the concerns of my estate as expeditiously as possible, and to see that my intentions in respect to the residue of my estate are and shall be strictly complied with: and I do hereby revoke all other Wills by me heretofore made.

In witness, I, the said Stephen Girard, have to this my last Will and Testament, contained in thirty-five pages, set my hand at the bottom of each page, and my hand and seal at the bottom of this page; the said Will executed, from motives of prudence, in duplicate, this sixteenth day of February, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty.

STEPHEN GIRARD. [Seal.]

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Stephen Girard, as and for his last Will and Testament, in the presence of us, who have at his request hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses thereto, in the presence of the said Testator, and of each other. Feb. 16, 1830.

JOHN H. IRWIN,
SAMUEL ARTHUR,
S. H. CARPENTER

WHEREAS, I, Stephen Girard, the Testator named in the foregoing Will and Testament, dated the sixteenth day of February, eighteen hundred and thirty, have, since the execution thereof, purchased several parcels and pieces of real estate, and have built sundry Messuages, all which, as well as any real estate that I may hereafter purchase, it is my wish and intention to pass by the said Will: Now, I do hereby republish the foregoing last Will and Testament, dated February 16, 1830, and do confirm the same in all particulars: In witness, I, the said Stephen Girard, set my hand and seal hereunto, the twenty-fifth day of December, eighteen hundred and thirty.

STEPHEN GIRARD. [Seal.]

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Stephen Girard, as and for a republication of his last Will and Testament, in the presence of us, who, at his request, have hereunto subscribed our names as Witnesses thereto in the presence of the said Testator and of each other, December 25th, 1830.

JOHN H. IRVIN,
SAMUEL ARTHUR,
JNO. THOMSON.

WHEREAS, I, Stephen Girard, the Testator named in the foregoing Will and Testament, dated February 16, 1830, have, since the execution, thereof, purchased several parcels and pieces of land and real estate, and have built sundry Messuages, all which, as well as any real estate that I may hereafter purchase, it is my intention to pass by said Will; And whereas in particular, I have recently purchased from Mr. William Parker, the Mansion House, out-buildings, and forty-five acres and some perches of land, called Peel Hall, on the Ridge Road, in Penn Township: Now, I declare it to be my intention, and I direct, that the Orphan establishment, provided for in my said Will, instead of being built as therein directed upon my square of ground between High and Chesnut and Eleventh and Twelfth Streets in the City of Philadelphia, shall be built upon the estate so purchased from Mr. W. Parker, and I hereby devote the said estate to that purpose, exclusively, in the same manner as I had devoted the said square, hereby directing that all the improvements and arrangements for the said Orphan establishment prescribed by my said Will as to said square shall be made and executed upon the said estate, just as if I had in my Will devoted the said estate to said purpose—consequently, the said square of ground is to constitute, and I declare it to be a part of the residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, and given and devised for the same uses and purposes as are declared in section twenty, of my Will, it being my intention that the said square of ground shall be built upon and improved in such a manner as to secure a safe and permanent income for the purposes stated in said twentieth section. In witness whereof, I, the said Stephen Girard, set my hand and seal hereunto, the twentieth day of June, eighteen hundred and thirty one.

STEPHEN GIRARD. [Seal.]

Signed, sealed, published, and declared, by the said Stephen Girard, as and for a republication of his last Will and Testament, and a further direction in relation to the real estate therein mentioned, in the presence of us, who, at his request, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses thereto, in the presence of the said Testator, and of each other, June 20, 1831.

S. H. CARPENTER,
L. BARDIN,
SAMUEL ARTHUR.

Philadelphia, December 31st, 1831,—Then personally appeared Samuel Arthur and S. H. AN ACT

To enable the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Philadelphia, to carry into effect certain improvements, and execute certain trusts.

WHEREAS, by the last will and testament of Stephen Girard, late of the city of Philadelphia, deceased, the sum of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars is bequeathed to the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia, in trust, among other things to apply the income thereof "First, to lay out, regulate, curb, light, and pave a passage or street on the east part of the city of Philadelphia, fronting the river Delaware, not less than twenty-one feet wide, and to be called Delaware Avenue, extending from South or Cedar street, all along the east part of Water street squares, and the west side of the logs which form the heads of the docks or thereabouts, and to this intent to obtain such acts of Assembly, and to make such purchases or agreements as will enable the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia, to remove or pull down all the buildings, fences, and obstructions, which may be in the way, and to prohibit all buildings, fences, or erections of any kind, to the eastward of said avenue, to fill up the heads of such of the docks as may not afford sufficient room for the said street, to compel the owners of wharves to keep them clean and covered completely with gravel or other hard materials, and to be so levelled that water will not remain thereon after a shower of rain; to completely clean and keep clean all the docks within the limits of the city fronting on the Delaware, and to pull down all platforms carried out from the east part of the city over the river Delaware on piles or pillars." "Second, to pull down and remove all wooden buildings, as well those made of wood and other combustible materials, as those called brick paned or framed buildings, filled in with bricks, that are erected within the limits of the city of Philadelphia; and also to prohibit the erection of any such building within the said city's limits at any future time." "Third, to widen, pave, and curb Water street, and to distribute the Schuylkill water therein, upon" a certain plan therein set forth. Now, for the purpose of enabling the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to effect the improvements contemplated by the said testator, and to execute in all other respects the trusts created by this will, to enable the constituted authorities of the city of Philadelphia to carry which into effect, the said Stephen Girard has desired the legislature to enact the necessary laws.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same: That it shall and may be lawful for the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia, by ordinance lawfully enacted, or the intervention and act of authorized officers, or agents to lay out, regulate, curb, light, and pave a passage or street not less than twenty-one feet in width on the east part of the city of Philadelphia, fronting the river Delaware, at such distance or distances in the several parts thereof from the eastern line of Water street, as they shall judge proper, extending from Vine to Cedar streets, to be called the Delaware Avenue; and that having laid out such street, they shall cause a record of the same to be made in the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Philadelphia.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesoid: That it shall be lawful for the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to lay out Water street, in the said city, anew, in such manner as that the same shall be as nearly straight as conveniently may be, and of a uniform or as near as may be uniform width throughout, not less than thirty-nine feet if practicable, and the same to open and keep open for ever, as a common and public highway, and that having laid out said Water street of such increased width, they shall cause a record of the same to be made in the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Philadelphia.

SECTION 3. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be lawful for the mayor, aldermen, and citizens aforesaid, to pass ordinances or take other measures for regulating, adjusting, and determining the easternmost line to which wharves may hereafter lawfully be constructed on the river Delaware fronting said city, and to cause a record of such regulated line to be made in the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Philadelphia; to fix and decide on, or cause their officers to fix and decide on the levels of all wharves fronting the said city, and to declare the regulation thereof, to require the owners thereof to pave the same or to lay them with gravel according to such regulation, so as effectually to drain and pass off the water from the same, and to require all persons owning and occupying or using docks or wharves, to clean the same and to keep the same in repair, and to prescribe the form, materials, and character of workmanship of all wharves hereafter to be constructed, and to require all platforms now projecting into the river Delaware, and supported on piles, pillars, or piers, to be removed, and to prohibit the construction in future of any such projecting platforms, and to require the removal and prohibit the construction in future of all buildings, fences, and other obstructions to the eastward of Delaware Avenue above mentioned, and to declare all erections and constructions whatsoever contrary to the said ordinances, whether erected before or after the passage of the same, to be nuisances, and generally to devise, ordain and execute whatever other things shall by them the said mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia, be deemed necessary or convenient for the good arrangement, security and government of the said wharves. PROVIDED, That the easternmost line of the said wharves shall not be held to be finally determined, and the record thereof shall not be made as aforesaid, unless the board of Wardens of the port of Philadelphia shall decide, and make their certificates in writing, that such easternmost line is not inconsistent with the public interests; which certificates shall also be recorded in the said Court of Quarter Sessions: but if the said certificates shall not be granted by them within three months after application made therefor, the refusal or omission of the said board of Wardens to grant such certificates, shall when duly ratified by affidavit, be esteemed the judgment and decisions of the said board of Wardens, that such easternmost line is inconsistent with the public interests; and in case such a decision shall in anywise be made, an appeal shall lie thereupon to the said Court of Quarter Sessions, as in other cases; and the judgment of the said Court in favor of such regulated line, shall be for all purposes equivalent to a similar decision by the said board of Wardens. PROVIDED: That nothing herein contained, shall be construed to give authority to any one to erect wharves or piers, extending out as far as the said regulated easternmost line, without license from the said board of Wardens as heretofore.

SECTION 4. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be lawful for the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to pass ordinances prohibiting the construction within the said city, or any part thereof, of all framed or brick-paned, or other buildings, the walls whereof are not wholly composed of incombustible materials, determining the thickness of which walls of buildings of different dimensions and character shall hereafter be made in the said city; and in making all such other legal provisions, as they shall think expedient for preventing the extension of injuries from fire in the said city, and to declare all buildings the walls whereof are not wholly composed of incombustible materials to be nuisances.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That when any of the said ordinances shall have been passed, or other proceedings had in relation to the said Delaware Avenue and Water street, or either of them, and the record thereof shall have been made as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to proceed from time to time to open for public use, any part or parts thereof, and the same to keep open as common and public highways forever, and to that end to enter upon such property as may be found to be within the same; construct wharves extending into the river within the lines of said Delaware Avenue, and to a reasonable distance beyond the same, and fill up all docks within the limits thereof: and remove all obstructions, of whatever kind, within the limits of said avenue and street, or any parts thereof, and level, drain, pitch and pave the same, as other streets in the said city. And from and after the passing of such ordinances, and the record of the said avenue and street, all buildings thereafter erected or rebuilt on the said avenue and street, shall conform to the recorded limits of the same, and the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, may pass ordinances declaring all obstructions within the same to be nuisances.

SECTION 6. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall at all times be lawful for the mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to remove and abate any building, erection, or obstruction whatever, which by this act, or by any ordinance to be hereafter passed, by virtue of it, may be declared a nuisance; PROVIDED: That if such building, erection, or obstruction shall have been in existence at the time of the passage of this act, or of such ordinance passed by virtue thereof, the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid shall give at least three months notice of their intention to remove the same to the persons having the ownership, occupation or use thereof; or in case no such person shall be known to them, then they shall affix a copy of such notice to and upon such building, erection or obstruction, three months before proceeding to remove the same.

SECTION 7. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be lawful for the said mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia aforesaid, to provide for the punishment of any person or persons who shall commit any nuisance contrary to the intent and meaning of this act, and of the ordinances which may be passed by virtue thereof, and of any person or persons who having committed any such nuisance, shall, after notice, refuse or neglect to remove the same.

SECTION 8. And be it further enacted by the authority aforsaid, That all persons whatsoever, who shall receive damage to their property by reason of any thing which shall have been done by the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia, under this act or any ordinances passed by virtue thereof, may, after three days notice of such their intention to the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, apply by petition in writing to the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Philadelphia, who shall thereupon appoint a jury of twelve disinterested freeholders, citizens of the city of Philadelphia, which jury shall assemble after ten days notice of their meeting given as aforesaid, and shall be sworn or affirmed, to inquire what damages the petitioners, or any of them, have sustained by reason of any thing so done, considering as well the advantages which may accrue to such petitioners as the injuries by them complained of; and the said jury having viewed the premises, and heard the parties or their counsel, shall report in writing under the hands of at least ten jurors, and their report having been considered and confirmed by the Court, the damages thereby found shall be paid by the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, in six months after the confirmation of the said report.

Section 9. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, shall deem it expedient that the damages should be legally ascertained before proceeding to enter on premises for the purpose of removing obstructions, and before appropriating to public use any property of individuals, or otherwise injuriously affecting the rights and interests of any proprietor, the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, may from time to time apply to the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Philadelphia, by petition in writing, specifying therein as nearly as may be the persons and property in regard to which they desire that the damages should be ascertained, and thereupon the said Court shall appoint a jury of twelve disinterested freeholders, citizens of the city of Philadelphia, which jury shall assemble after ten days notice of their meeting given to the owners or occupiers of the property, and shall be sworn or affirmed as is provided in the foregoing section of this act, and having viewed and heard as is therein provided, shall report in writing under the hands of at least ten jurors, specifying in their said report, as well the causes for which damages, if any, should be paid, as the amounts of such damages, and in such case the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, may, within one year after the confirmation of such report by the Court of Quarter Sessions, tender to any owner of property named therein, the amount of damages thereby found in his favour, or may pay the same into Court for his use or benefit, and may thereafter proceed to enter upon the premises and remove the obstructions, or appropriate the property for which damages shall have been so paid or tendered, first giving three months notice to the tenant in possession, if any. Provided however: That if the amount so found by such jury in favour of any person, shall not be so tendered or paid within one year after the confirmation of such report, then the proceedings had upon the said petition of the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, shall, so far as relates to the said owner, be null and void; the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, may thereafter present their petition in writing anew under this section, as if no proceedings had before been had: And provided also: That when a report shall have been made by a jury under the provisions of this section, and damages shall have been tendered or paid in accordance therewith, if thereafter any other damage than that reported on shall be sustained, the party aggrieved may thereafter apply in regard to such other damages, for a jury to assess the same under the eighth section of this act. Provided further: That it shall at all times be competent to the mayor, aldermen and citizens aforesaid, to agree with any owner or owners of property so to be taken, removed or affected, for the damages thereby to be occasioned, and such agreements shall be instead of any proceedings detailed in this or the foregoing sections of this act; And forasmuch as in the course of time it may appear that powers are not vested in the said mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia, which may be yet required to the full execution of those parts of the said will of the said Stephen Girard, for the carrying of which into effect, he has in his said will requested legislative provision, and it is the object and intent of this act fully to confer all such powers.

SECTION 10. Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be lawful for the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia, to exercise all such jurisdiction, enact all such ordinances, and execute all such acts and things whatsoever, as may be necessary and convenient for the full and entire acceptance, execution and prosecution of any and all the devises and bequests, trusts and provisions contained in the said will, which are the subjects of the preceding parts of this act, and to enable the constituted authorities of the City of Philadelphia to carry which into effect, the said Stephen Girard has desired the Legislature to enact the necessary laws.

SECTION 11. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That no road or street shall be laid out, or passed through the land in the county of Philadelphia, bequeathed by the late Stephen Girard for the erection of a College, unless the same shall be recommended by the Trustees or Directors of said College, and approved of by a majority of the Select and Common Councils of the city of Philadelphia.
